Peace Hopes In Argentina Growing Dim

Government Official Threatens New Action In Church-State Clash

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Peace seemed remote today for Argentina, her capital wracked by street fighting and her government renewing its battle with Roman Catholic Church leaders.

Reinforced police patrols roamed the streets of Buenos Aires after the third straight day of clashes Wednesday between antigovernment demonstrators and followers of President Juan Peron.

Priests Accused

Justice and Interior Minister Oscar Albrieu accused seven priests in Buenos Aires of using the pulpit to incite a "campaign of disobedience" against Peron.

He said no action had been taken yet against the priests but that their names would be handed over to church authorities.

"Toleration has its limit," he said, "and we cannot continue tolerating these things because that would in effect concur with them."

He told newsmen the government would resume its political campaign against the church leaders. But the regime, he added, would not abandon the policy of "pacification" Peron proclaimed in an attempt to restore order after the bloody abortive revolt of June 16. Until this week, the government had virtually stilled its attacks on the church since the revolt.

Blames Opposition Groups

Commenting on the Peronista party's announcement Tuesday that it was resuming its "political crusade," Albrieu said the opposition groups brought this on themselves by rejecting the government's proffered truce. The opposition Radical and Democratic (conservative) parties demanded that Peron restore civil liberties.

Albrieu did not indicate what form the pacification policy now would take.

Wednesday's violence disrupted the holiday marking the 105th anniversary celebration of the death of Gen. Jose de San Martin, who liberated Argentina from Spain.

Skirmishes Start at Dawn

The skirmishes—many punctuated by shots—broke out before dawn Wednesday and continued intermittently until Wednesday night in downtown Buenos Aires. Police scattered hundreds of demonstrators with tear gas and fire hoses, but new fights kept erupting.

It was not known how many persons have been injured or arrested since the trouble began

Had Intruded Into District Inadvertently

C47 Hunting for T6 Also Fired On, but Is Damaged Only Slightly

PANMUMJOM, Korea (AP)—Communist antiaircraft guns Wednesday shot down a small unarmed American training plane. The U.N. Command today said the craft had "inadvertently intruded" over the demilitarized zone but not into North Korean territory.

Later the Air Force announced a C47 transport searching near the demilitarized zone for the missing trainer was fired upon this morning. One small slug hit the left wing but the plane was otherwise unharmed.

Accused of 'Barbarism'

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allie dmember of the Military Armistice Commission, accused the Reds of "wanton barbarism" in pouring "continuous murderous and devastating ground fire" at the plane until it crashed, out of control, in Communist territory.

Parks said the plane carried only a pilot and a military passenger on "a routine training flight."

There was no information on whether the two escaped death. Their names were withheld.

Parks demanded that the Reds immediately return the two men.

Air Force officials said the plane which Allied ground observers saw shot down is believed to be a T6 trainer missing on a training flight from Kimpo Air Base, near Seoul.

It took off at 2:00 p.m. and the last routine radio report was received about an hour later, the Air Force said.

About 30 minutes later, U.N. ground observers reported they saw the plane shot down by North Korean antiaircraft fire.

No Trace of Pilot

An Air Force search failed to find any trace of the plane or passengers.

Parks said in a letter to the Reds, "This aircraft carried no armament whatsoever and was performing a routine training flight . . . It committed no acts that could possibly be construed as hostile.

"Despite these facts, your trigger happy gunmen, without warning or without waiting to ascertain if the aircraft would positively intrude into your territory, opened fire without provocation while the plane was still over the demilitarized zone."

Man Sought for Killing Detective Eludes Police After Fight in Theater

CHICAGO (AP)—A 26-year-old ex-convict, hunted for the killing of a detective Monday night, shot and seriously wounded a rookie policeman in a gun fight Wednesday night in a movie theater.

The slayer, believed wounded, fled while some 250 persons watched the movie. Several screamed as shots exploded but there was no panic.

Police stepped up their search for the gunman, Richard Carpenter, who Monday night killed Detective William J. Murphy, 34, in a gun battle in a subway station.

Nearly 500 officers were sent into the Northwest Side district around the Baltimore Theater, where policeman Clarence Kerr, 25, was shot Wednesday night.

"The gunman was Carpenter, and we know he is wounded," said Philip Breitzke, deputy commissioner. "He's somewhere around here, we know, and we'll get him."

Breitzke said there was a trail of blood from the theater aisle to the rear exit. Carpenter fled through the rear door after shooting Kerr in the chest.

Kerr, at St. Mary's Hospital, told Robert E. Ryan, deputy chief of the uniform force, that he and his wife, Marion, 24, had gone to the theater. He believed a man in a nearby seat was Carpenter. He took his wife to their car and returned to the theater, sitting down in the seat next to the man he believed was Carpenter.

Record Entry Lists Are Forecast for All Divisions

The annual Marion County Fair will open for a six-day period Saturday, with programs promised for every night.

Four nights of harness racing will be spotlighted this year, an extension of an extra night over the three nights held in former years.

Fair Secretary W. M. Haley reported today that records have been set in the number of entries in almost all departments. He said the number of entries this year was well over the numbers received in former years.

Exhibitors and concessionaires began Wednesday to set up their displays and rides on the fairgrounds. Haley said the fairgrounds is taking on the look of a "beehive" with all the activity now.

THE FAIR will last through next Thursday, with judging taking the spotlight during the first three days next week. Getting all exhibits and livestock in their places will be the main job of exhibitors Saturday. All entries must be in place by 6 p.m. Saturday.

Harness racing will be held Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights in front of the grandstand. The first night there will be four events with purses

Prisoners Riot; Police, Guards Quell Uprising

Three Hurt by Bullet During Disturbance at New York Institution

COMSTOCK, N.Y. (AP) — Guards and state police, using night-sticks and guns as clubs, battled prisoners for 26 minutes early today and broke up an uprising at Great Meadow Correctional Institute. Eighteen persons were injured.

One shot was fired accidentally when heavily armed guards and state troopers herded the 174 rebels back to their cells. The shot richocheted and wounded two troopers and a guard. The other casualties were a trooper and 14 prisoners, who suffered cuts and bruises.

First Revolt in Years

It was the first revolt in a New York state prison in a quarter century.

The rebels had defied an ultimatum from Thomas J. McHugh, state corfection commissioner. McHugh raced here 100 miles from Canton and told the rebels to end the disturbance within five minutes. They did not comply.

The uprising began in a recreation area at about 5 p.m. when the supper whistle was blown five minutes early, cutting short a recreation period. Supt. Joseph Conboy said it was done because of a threat of rain.

The rebels huddled in a corner of the area and refused to go inside. They demanded to see McHugh, who was attending a conference on juvenile delinquency at St. Lawrence University.

He arrived a short time before midnight and delivered his ultimatum at 12:12 a.m. over the prison loud-speaker system. He counted the minutes aloud.

All Over in Minutes

At 12:17, about 150 guards and 60 troopers moved in with nightsticks, rifles and submachineguns. The prisoners were armed with benches, nails and nail-studded slats from benches in the recreation yard.

The first 20 or 30 rebels entered the prison at 12:30. It was all over by 12:43.

Conboy told reporters the prisoners had a variety of complaints but there was no pattern. For example, he said, two complained that they were not getting medical treatment they wanted and a third wanted an improved recreation program next winter.

Health Service Makes Report On Polio Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service said today 1,781 new polio cases were reported to it last week. No reports were received from Vermont and Wyoming. Vermont had two cases in the week ended Aug. 6, and Wyoming had none.

The total represented an increase of 26 per cent over the corrected total of 1,412 cases in the week ended Aug. 6. It was 6 per cent below the 1,904 reported for the corresponding 1954 week.

Through Aug. 13, there were 9,720 cases listed this calendar year compared with 12,695 in the corresponding 1954 span. For the

Diane by Now Is Just Another Breezy Storm

Energy Dissipated in Sweep Inland Through Carolinas and Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Diane, the well-behaved hurricane, breezed northward early today as just another somewhat wet and windy storm. Her once potent 100 m.p.h. winds had been dissipated in a long trip through the Carolinas and Virginia.

Rains Accompany Advance

As she moved toward eastern West Virginia and central Pennsylvania her strongest winds were 40 m.p.h. Then, late Wednesday night as she huffed and puffed at southside and southwest Virginia they had dwindled to 20 to 35 m.p.h.

The Weather Bureau said her winds would continue to diminish as she moved north.

Moderate to heavy rains were expected to accompany Diane's advance into central Pennsylvania and eastern West Virginia, as well as western Maryland, today.

Tides Rise Into Streets

Along the Atlantic coast, southeast storm warnings which had flown for days when Diane was at her worst were hauled down at 2 a.m. and only small craft were warned to stay in port until the seas subsided.

Diane didn't do much damage in her passage over the Carolinas and Virginia. She brought high tides that flooded some business establishments in northeastern North Carolina and rains that further damaged tobacco and corn crops in Virginia.

High tides rose into the streets

New Standards for POWs

Code Tells Troops To Resist Torture

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new military code calls on every captured fighting man to withstand enemy pressure to the utmost, but to avoid at all costs disclosure of vital military information and disloyalty to his country or his comrades.

Drawing on experiences in the Korean War, it recognizes that physical and mental torture can force a man to the breaking point. It proposes idealistic standards and indoctrination to keep that breaking point high.

Proclaimed by President

President Eisenhower proclaimed the new code Wednesday and directed the military services to train all men to stand up to it, both in combat and in captivity.

It says that every American fighting man should be prepared:

To give his life for his country.

To refuse to surrender on his own initiative.

To continue resistance to pressures after capture.

To keep faith with his fellow prisoners.

The code holds to the loftiest ideals of bravery, but recognizes, as Gen. John E. Hull phrased it, that "any man can be broken if enough pressure is put on him." Hull, onetime supreme commander in the Far East, was vice chairman of a committee of retired officers and civilian officials which drew up the code and an accompanying report.

It officially relaxes for the first time the old requirement that a man give his captors only his name, rank and serial number.

That remains the first line of defense, to which he should hold if he can. The code calls on him to avoid answering other questions "to the utmost of my ability."

No Disloyalty

The report says he should stand "on the final line of resistance to the end—no disclosure of vital military information and above all no disloyalty in word or deed to his country, his service or his comrades."

The framers of the code noted that because modern wartare may reach "the doorstep of every citizen," it may well become a

Jet Planes Set 2 New Records

Cross Atlantic in 10 Hours and 48 Minutes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Refueled in flight, 10 F84F jet fighters flew from an American base in England to Austin Wednesday in 10 hours 48 minutes, breaking two world's records.

One of the records was for time, the other for nonstop mass flight distance.

The fighters averaged 480 miles per hour for the 5,118-mile trip from the English Midlands to their station here at Bergstrom Air Force Base. They refueled in flight.

Col. Richard N. Ellis, 39, led the Thunderstreaks.

The flight began with 12 aircraft but two landed at Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La., and trailed the other 10 home. No reason was announced for the landings.

Pilots taking part in the flight included Capt. Ralph Maglione, Akron, Ohio.

Broadway Red Probers Meet 17th Balky Witness

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Alan Manson, named in previous testimony as a one-time member of the Communist party, today refused to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he had been a party member.

Manson was the 18th witness to appear before the committee here in its probe of Communist infiltration into show business. He was the 17th witness to balk at answering questions about possible Communist affiliations.

One Admits Membership

Actor George Hall admitted to the committee Wednesday that he once had been a card-carrying member of the Communist party and named six other actors, including Manson, he said were members with him of the midtown branch of the party.

Manson told the committee that he did not believe it had the authority to inquire into his personal beliefs and associations. He invoked the First, Fifth and Ninth amendments to the Constitution in refusing to answer.

Can't Get Work

The first amendment guarantees free speech, the fifth involves possible self-incrimination and the ninth provides that the enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed as denying others retained by the people.

Manson told the committee he is 36 years old, was born in Brooklyn and that he had appeared in a number of Broadway shows and television performances after his discharge from military service in 1946.

The actor said that in recent years he has been unable to obtain much work and that lately his employment has consisted al-

County Budget Requests For 1956 Total $694,458

Budget requests totaling $694,458 from the general fund, asked by Marion County departments for 1956 operation, were approved this morning by county commissioners. Actual appropriations for the various departments for 1956 operation will be made in January when a report on anticipated revenues will be prepared by the county auditor.

The $694,458 request for 1956 compares with the $668,850 requested for 1955 operations, and the actual appropriation of $679,862.

ESTIMATED receipts for the 1956 general fund were listed at $703,523 in the budget.

The largest single request for 1956 operation is $40,000 for other expenses of the County Home. This is in addition to $27,920 for staff salaries and $15,000 for permanent improvements.

A decrease in request for operating money was shown in the request of $35,000 for hospitalization of tuberculosis patients. For 1955, $52,000 was requested and $43,348 was actually appropriated for this item. The decrease in the request resulted from a balance of $25,000 existing in that fund now.

REQUESTS OF other departments for 1956 operation, with amounts appropriated by county commissioners for 1955 operation, are as follows:

County commissioners, $18,587 ($18,387); auditor, $67,670 ($52,544); treasurer, $25,280 ($22,480); prosecuting attorney, $12,344 ($10,902); examiner, county offices, $1,000 ($7,500); Humane Society, $2,200 ($2,200); Common Pleas Court, $35,337 ($29,617).

Indian Death Toll Now Placed at 22

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today the number of dead in the march on Goa and other Portuguese possessions in India last Monday "now is presumed to be 22."

In his third statement to Parliament in as many days on the "peaceful invasion" of Portuguese India, the Prime Minister reported 225 marchers were wounded and 2 still are missing.

In the total of fatalities, Nehru was adding to the 15 dead he reported Tuesday the 7 victims already cremated inside Goa. His figures were supplied by the Bombay state government.

Way To Avoid Radiation Effects Under U.S. Study

GENEVA (AP)—The United States is working intensively on a triple-barreled method of protection against the effects of atomic radiation.

If the method proves applicable to humans, you would take a pill of a chemical called "thiuronium" as soon as the warning sounded for an atomic attack or an atomic plant accident.

Immediately after exposure to radiation, you would get an injection of bone marrow to help recovery from any radiation effects not covered by the original pill.

Finally a shot of streptomycin would reduce the bacterial infection which is potentially high in cases of radiation damage.

Dr. Alexander Hollaender of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., described the combination treatment Wednesday night at the atoms-for-peace conference.

Hollaender said the three-step treatment enabled 50 per cent of a group of mice to survive three times the amount of radiation they could otherwise have endured.

But he emphasized:

"It will take at least another year or two before some of the questions can be settled and before one would consider it for human application."

The American scientist said the major question still unanswered is whether thiuronium is too toxic for man in doses strong enough to give a high degree of protection. In animal studies, he said, it appears to be less toxic than two other related substances which also have shown high protective effects.

Hollaender said persons who are exposed to "significant" amounts of radiation should avoid conception for several weeks afterward.

Child Dies Two Weeks After Swallowing Coins

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Several pennies she swallowed two weeks ago contributed to the death yesterday of 7-year-old Judith K. Hamilton.

Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher said the child died of inflammation of the stomach and throat, adding that her condition was aggravated by the copper in the coins.

The child did not reveal she had swallowed the pennies until they showed up in X-rays last Friday.

Syrian Parliament Elects a President

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The Syrian Parliament elected 62-year-old Shukri Kuwatly, who returned from exile only last year, president of Syria today by a 91-41 vote.

The new President, who was deposed by a military coup in 1949, won his majority over Foreign Minister Khaled Azem on the second ballot.

Kuwatly will take over from the 90-year-old incumbent, Hashem Atassi, Sept. 6.

Kuwatly is considered an old friend of Egypt—and therefore not likely to favor closer links with the Iraq-Turkish defense accord. But he is not considered to be actively anti-Western and has been described by one observer as likely to "collabroate with the West without signing any pacts."

Boy Slain by Pack Of Dogs in Canada

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy was bitten to death by a pack of 14 farm dogs here Wednesday when he tried to keep them from mauling his own pet dog.

Police said Wayne Baker had wandered away from his family's summer home at nearby Matthiasville. He was found in a clump of bushes on a neighboring farm an hour later.

Mrs. Vera MacDonald, who owns the farm and dogs, said she had gone to the store shortly before the incident. When she returned she found her dogs sniffing at some bushes. She chased them and found the mutilated child. He died in a hospital.

Women Prisoners Stage Riot in Massachusetts

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—State police kept a watch today at the women's reformatory where 50 inmates Wednesday night smashed windows, dishes and "everything breakable" in a wild riot.

Iris Allen, 26, of Fall River, serving a term for robbery, scaled a 10-foot barbed wire fence and escaped during the riot. Three others who tried to escape were captured.

An inmate tipped officials to the breakout. Other inmates pounced on the informant, scratching and beating her. Then they turned to smashing everything breakable in sight.

State police quelled the disturbance.

Soviet Officers Reported Posing as Czechs, Poles

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — O. K. Armstrong, former Republican congressman from Missouri, said today he had positive proof that Russian intelligence officers often take the place of Polish and Czech members on the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea.

He attributed his information to Swiss and Swedish members of the inspection teams, U.S. military sources and South Korean intelligence.

"They have inspected and photographed U.S. military installations all over Korea," Armstrong said in an interview.

He was in Korea last week.

South Koreans' Trips To Japan Are Banned

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea has "completely banned" Koreans from making any business or personal trips between South Korea and Japan, the Foreign Ministry said today.

Foreign Ministry officials said, "As a principle, no Koreans are allowed to make any private trips between the two countries . . . because "the Japanese are giving protection and encouragement to elements opposed to the government of the Republic of Korea, to Korean national traitors, and to pro-Japanese Koreans both economically and politically."

Chicago Man Sought in Boy Scout's Killing

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Police today sought a 31-year-old Chicago man who they said had a record of morals offenses for questioning in the slaying of Peter Gorham.

Police said the man, whom they declined to name, arrived in Muskegon by plane July 3. He rented a car saying he planned to visit a nephew at a scout camp.

The car was returned July 6 after the rental agency had closed. A $58 rental bill was unpaid.

The Gorham boy vanished July 5 from Boy Scout Camp Wabaningo near Muskegon. His body was found Sunday about five miles from the camp site. He had been shot through the head.

Police said a pathologist's report showed the 12-year-old Evanston, Ill. Boy Scout had been killed by a .30 caliber bullet. It was believed earlier the bullet had been fired from a .22 caliber weapon.

Police have cleared a score of persons in the case by lie detector tests. Included among those cleared were nine counselors and officials of Camp Wabaningo.

Chamber Gets Home Reports, Sewer Studies

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon referred to the board of directors of the Chamber a report of the subcommittee studying the proposed addition to the Marion County Home, with several recommendations.

Officials of the committee would not disclose the contents of the report or their recommendations.

The committee also heard a report of the sewer committee and recommended again that city and county officials study the sewer situation in Marion and the surrounding areas. Such a study should result in definite recommendations, the committee said, for the solution of the sewer problem here, including the Columbia and QuQua ditches. The committee said Marion cannot grow because adequate housing is held up due to a lack of adequate sewers.

The building code subcommittee reported it was making further progress in drawing up a building code for the city.

The parks and recreation group reported any levy or bond issue for the erection of a new swimming pool in Marion was out of the question this fall, and members reported they were still considering the question of a large park area south of the city

Ike Fishes, Cooks, Practices Golf and Gets in Some Work

FRASER, Colo. (AP) — Delighted over landing a two-pound Rocky Mountain trout, President Eisenhower today held the "biggest catch" championship at his secluded vacation retreat here.

He reeled in the trout Wednesday in the first few seconds of 3½ hours of fishing in cold St. Louis Creek. He also caught several other smaller trout, and his 7-year-old grandson David—fly casting for the first time—hauled in two 12-inchers weighing under a pound.

In addition to fishing, Eisenhower got in some golf practice shots, started painting a mountain scene, did nearly all the cooking for his party—and turned out quite a bit of work to boot.

Monday, but the figure is expected to be high.

One report said that 94 were arrested in the street clashes Wednesday, most of them in the noon fighting before the Metropolitan Cathedral.

The Armed Forces Council Wednesday night announced the sentences for the ringleaders of the June uprising. Rear Adm. Samuel Toranzo Calderon, singled out as the chief plotter, was handed an "indeterminate" term, which could mean up to life imprisonment. Nine navy and two air force officers received the same sentence.

Rear Adm. Anibal O. Olivieri, navy minister at the time of the revolt, drew 18 months for "not having used the means at his command" to avert rebellion. The sentence specified that his term would not involve hard labor.

Of eight other navy and air force officers, two got three years each, four received two years, one got 18 months and one a year.

Kenton's Last Blacksmith Shop Will Be Destroyed

Property's Being Cleared For Supermarket's Parking Space

KENTON—The only blacksmith shop in Kenton and one of the city's oldest houses will soon become just part of history.

The old house, built in the 1800's, has been toppled and the blacksmith shop will be razed soon, as the land is cleared to make way for a supermarket parking lot. The shop, which is located on E. Ohio St., has a history dating back 82 years and the house, which was constructed with pole rafters and beams, stood on the corner of E. Ohio and Main Sts.

Owner of the shop and house, Lawrence Bolenbaugh, recently sold the property to the A & P store.

FOR THE PAST 14 YEARS, the blacksmith shop has been operated by Harry Collette, who for eight years lived in the old house on the property. A blacksmith for 50 years, Collette doesn't plan to retire from the trade. He will rent another shop in Kenton and continue his business. Much of his trade, in addition to making horseshoes for horses owned by Hardin County's Amish residents and for saddle horses in the area, consists of sharpening plowshares for the farmers.

The blacksmith shop was constructed on St. Main St in 1873 by Nicholas Bloom, a wagon maker, and it stood there until 1875 when it was purchased by Isaac Bolenbaugh and moved to its present location. Bolenbough, who came to Hardin County in 1832, was a blacksmith and prominent Kenton businessman.

Bolenbaugh also purchased the house in 1875 and moved there with his family. In February, 1900, John White and John Fisher leased the shop from the Bolenbaugh family. White was 14 years old at that time. He operated the blacksmith shop for 45 years until his retirement.

White today is Kenton's safety service director, but he remembers many interesting incidents from his days as a blacksmith. One year, he recalls, he saved a penny for each shoe he fitted and at the end of the year he had saved $126.76 from a total of 12,676 shoes.

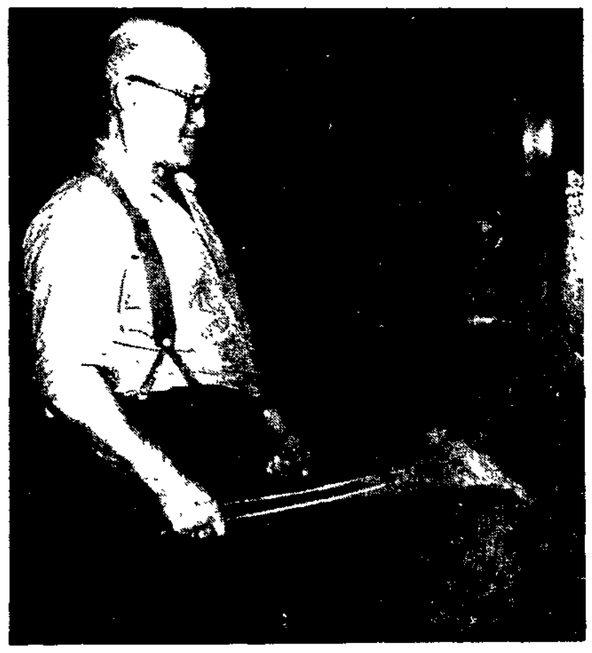
WHITE AND GEORGE LAMB held Kenton's horseshoeing record of 276 shoes within one day.

The day the first western horses were brought to Kenton is still vivid in White's memory. Two of the wild horses were brought to the shop to be shod, but they broke loose and tore through the white pine walls of the shop. They were captured about four miles away on a river bank.

Lawrence Bolenbaugh, who recently sold the property, is the grandson of Isaac Bolenbaugh, the property's second owner.

PASSING OF AN ERA. The only remaining blacksmith shop in Kenton will soon be razed to make way for a supermarket parking lot. A house, constructed on the same property in the 1800's, has already been leveled and the blacksmith shop, a Kenton landmark, will also be destroyed. UPPER: Harry Collette, who has operated the blacksmith shop for 14 years, stands in the doorway of the old building, perhaps, reminiscing about the history of the shop and eyeing the future of an almost extinct trade which he has carried on for 50 years. LOWER: Collette, shown sharpening some plowshares in the old blacksmith shop, will move his machinery and equipment to another Kenton location where he will continue the legend of "the village blacksmith."



Welcomed by Capehart

Truman's Campaigning Viewed as Asset to GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) said today Republicans will welcome as an "asset" to them any campaigning former President Truman does for the Democrats in 1956.

"The American people have the utmost confidence in President Eisenhower and are perfectly satisfied with his record," Capehart said. "I don't think anything Harry Truman says will change their minds."

Will 'Tear Into GOP'

Truman said in a telephone interview Wednesday night he is going to "tear into the Republicans" in a series of speeches beginning at French Lick, Ind., Aug. 27. He said he will talk politics at Mackinac Island, Mich., Aug. 29, in Detroit Sept. 5 at a Labor Day rally and at two subsequent Democratic dinners in California.

"We'll beat the Republicans with their own ammunition," he said.

"I am going to do all I can to help restore the government of this country to the people — I'll be available right along to the Democratic National Committee," he said.

"I'm not revealing my own ammunition," he added, but indicated he will talk largely about domestic issues.

Feeling Great at 71

Truman, who said he is feeling physically "tip top" at 71, poohpoohed the idea that he might be a candidate himself, as suggested by Democratic Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama. He said he is for Adlai E. Stevenson, but will support the Democratic conventions candidates.

Capehart said in an interview he thinks Truman's active entry into the campaign would revive the issues of "crony government" and "Democratic mess in Washington" used by the Republicans in the 1952 campaign.

"Truman's statements and speeches will be an asset to us," he said. "I wouldn't know what his issues will be but I don't think the people want to go back to Trumanism."

Red Probe

most entirely of appearances in summer stock.

After actor George Hall—the 12th witness — admitted yesterday he had been a Communist, five other persons took the stand and refused to answer committee questions on constitutional grounds.

First 11 Balked

The first 11 witnesses also balked at questions during the first three days of hearings.

Madeline Lee, 32, actress and wife of comedian Jack Guilford, Wednesday cited the First, Fourth, Fifth and Eighth amendments.

She cited the Fourth Amendment on the grounds that the inquiry constituted "illegal search and seizure and depredation of the only thing I have to sell, my talent"—and the eighth on the ground she could not be subjected to "cruel and unusual punishment."

Like other balky witnesses, she pleaded the First Amendment, which guarantees freedom of speech, and the fifth, which provides that a person may not be compelled to testify against himself.

Another witness was George Keane, one of six persons named by Hall as having been Communists. Keane appeared in "The Seven Year Itch" and "Brigadoon."

Keane, citing the First, Fourth and Fifth amendments, told the committee headed by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.):

"I've always been a patriotic American who has fought for his country and I would fight again.

Calls It 'Inquisition'

"But I'm not going to answer such questions (about Communist affiliations) because I consider this hearing is an inquisition and not an investigation."

Actor Joshua Shelley, also named by Hall as having been a Communist, denied the Committee's right to question him about his associations. He pleaded the First and Fifth amendments.

Peter Lawrence, former stage manager of the Ballet Theatre and coproducer of the 1950 production of "Peter Pan," was asked if he led "Actor for Peace" unit in the 1952 May Day parade.

Replied Lawrence; "I can do whatever I please. I can walk, I can march and I don't have to testify about it."

The final witness was Albert Ottenheimer, a veteran actor and native of Tacoma, Wash. He was graduated from the University of Washington and later organized the Seattle Repertory Playhouse. He testified he spent about 20 years with the playhouse, acting and helping to direct shows.

Ottenheimer cited the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer whether he had ever been a Communist party member or had taught in Communist-supported schools.

He said, however:

"I have never committed espionage or knowingly advocated the use of force or violence to overthrow the government. I am deeply and unswervingly loyal to my country."

Walter, in announcing Wednesday that the hearings would end today, said some of the 10 remaining witnesses subpoenaed "were not available." He said a resumption of the hearings tentatively was scheduled for Washington early next month.

In some rural areas 75 per cent of the checks are written in pencil.

Lausche Reviews Case Of Man Slated for Chair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today he is studying the case of Benjamin Meyer, Lancaster wife - slayer scheduled to die in the electric chair next Thursday.

Meyer is to be executed for killing his estranged wife, Velvia, mother of five children, near Logan.

The State Pardon and Parole Commission reviewed the case and made a secret recommendation to the governor.

Lausche gave no indication what action he would take. He usually waits until shortly before scheduled electrocutions in Ohio Penitentiary before announcing a decision.

U.S. and China Resume Talks

No Word on Progress Of Discussion Given

GENEVA (AP) — The U. S. and Communist Chinese ambassadors met 2½ hours today for the eighth talk in nearly three weeks of secret negotiations here on repatriation of civilians each government claims the other is holding.

The ambassadors then recessed until Saturday morning. As usual there was no announcement except for an American statement that civilian repatriation would be discussed again then.

So far the two envoys, U. Alexis Johnson of the United States and Wang Ping-nan of Peiping, have announced no progress toward a solution.

The United States is seeking the release of 41 American civilians it says the Reds have jailed, put under house arrest or refused to let have exit permits.

Peiping contends that the United States is holding thousands of Chinese students in America against their will. Washington says all Chinese nationals are free to leave the country.

New Code

interrogators. But the defense report stressed the necessity for the training in Americanism to start in the homes, the schools and the churches, saying that by the time a man gets into uniform his character is pretty well established.

The American military man, according to the code and accompanying instructions, must oppose an enemy both before and after capture. He must try to escape and help his comrades do likewise. He must obey discipline in prison camps, following the leadership enforced by the senior ranking prisoner.

Informing, or doing anything to harm a fellow prisoner, is described as "despicable." No serviceman may sign a confession or assent to an oral one, whether true or false, or sign any peace or surrender appeals or anything on behalf of an enemy. Likewise forbidden is the making of propaganda recordings or broadcasts.

Balancing this demand for responsibility on the part of the military man is the defense report statement, backed up by the President himself, that the "United States will never forget and never forsake him and that it will win the ultimate victory."

The framers of the code drew upon the advice and personal experience of many experts, including Americans who survived the worst that the Communists could do to them in Korea. The committee rejected as impractical the "Spartan code of silence" that would demand of a prisoner that he say absolutely nothing to his captors.

The committee also rejected the advice of some who advocated either letting prisoners tell as much as they wanted to and others who would encourage prisoners to talk a lot but say nothing.

Killer

Kerr, with his gun in his hand, told the man: "You look like a man we are looking for."

The man replied: "All right, I guess you've got me."

Kerr, a member of the department only 10 months, ordered the man to leave the theater with him. As they got to the main aisle, Kerr related, the gunman pulled a gun from under his shirt, whirled and fired.

The policeman emptied his gun at him, firing five shots at point blank range and the sixth as he fled to the rear exit.

After scores of police arrived, the theater was emptied and police started a house-to-house search of the district.

Carpenter, police said, was halted by Murphy Monday night for questioning in connection with a series of robberies of stores and taverns.

at Washington, N.C., on the Pamlico River. Flooding conditions also were reported from Edenton, Hertford and Elizabeth City, N.C., where buildings stood in 18 inches of water. Waves did some damage at Wrightsville, Carolina, Kure and Atlantic beaches.

Damage in South Carolina was described as "practically negligible."

More than 2 inches of rain fell in Danville and almost that much in Lynchburg and Richmond as Diane passed. Some secondary roads were blocked by high water, but traffic continued to flow over all primary highways.

Bandits Flee Deputy

REGGIO, Calabria, Italy (AP) — Two armed and masked bandits stopped a car along a highway Wednesday night. They ordered the driver and his wife to get out. The driver identified himself—Antonio Cupua, member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies and undersecretary of agriculture. The bandits fled without loot.

Fair

totalling $2,000. The other three nights will have three races each night with purses amounting to $1,500 each night.

The Junior Fair entries appear to be about the same in number as last year, officials of that section reported. However, a record number of crop exhibits has been entered as well as a record number of booths and floats. Some 29 floats have been entered in the competition by 4-H Clubs, FFA Chapters and FHA Chapters in the county.

The floats will be judged Thursday morning and paraded in front of the grandstand Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. Following the parade at the fairgrounds, they will be paraded through the downtown streets of Marion. Bands from Harding High School, Claridon, Pleasant and Waldo Schools will provide music for the parade.

The parade through the downtown area was arranged by fair officials in cooperation with the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce. Persons in the downtown area will be allowed to vote for the best floats with prizes of $30, $20 and $10 being given the first three winners.

THE DOWNTOWN parade was arranged to stimulate interest in the fair and to give the youths a chance to exhibit their skills to more people.

Activities Sunday will consist of church services at the fairgrounds at 11 a.m. Minister for the church services to be held in front of the grandstand is Rev. Gene Clark of the Salem EUB Church. The choir from the church will furnish music for the services. All activity on the fairgrounds will come to a halt while the services are being conducted.

In the afternoon, and evening an automobile thrill show will be held featuring a contest between members of three national groups

The three groups are the Dick Rogers' All American Motor Maniacs, the Auto daredevils and Billy Green's Canadian Aces. Popular applause will determine the winners in the contests.

The main business of the Fair, judging, will begin Monday. Senior fair livestock entries will all be judged Monday and Tuesday while all Junior Fair livestock entries will be judged on Wednesday.

Sheep, poultry, farm produce and dairy cattle except Holstein cattle, will all be judged during the day Monday. All Holsteins will be judged in a special event at 7 p.m. Monday at the Coliseum.

Tuesday, beef cattle and swine will be judged.

All livestock judging in the Junior Fair will be done Wednesday. However, other entries and activities of the young farmers will be judged Monday and Tuesday.

Monday, booths, crops, shop and home economics food will be judged. A nutrition revue will be held at 10:30 a.m. and a style revue will be held at 2 p.m. The annual tractor operator's contest will be held at 1:30 p.m. Competing will be Ted Uhl of New Bloomington, and Harry Kramer, Kenneth Collmer and Howard Seckel, all of Claridon. They were chosen for the competition in a preliminary contest held two weeks ago.

DURING THE DAY Tuesday, boys and girls will give demonstrations in a variety of subjects from farming methods to cooking procedures. The boys will give theirs in the morning while the girls will take the stand in the afternoon.

Tuesday night, the annual showmanship contests will be held at the Coliseum. Scheduled for 8 p.m., the contest will be divided in two sections, junior and senior. The junior event is for boys and girls under 14, while the senior division is for former junior event winners and youths over 14.

On the last day of the fair, the WLW Midwestern Hayride Show will present two performances, one at 7 p.m. and the other at 9 p.m. in front of the grandstand.

Many additional features have been added to the fair this year, including a 10-point horse show by the Ohio Western Horsemen's Association. This will be held at the grandstand at 1 p.m. Thursday. Officials of the show expect to draw entries from all over the state for the event.

Another feature this year will be a large display of rabbits by the members of the Central Ohio Rabbit Breeders Association. A special tent has been erected for the animals and several hundred are expected to be shown.

The Marion County Implement Dealers have made plans for a giant display of the latest farm machinery. This year the display will be placed at the main gate of the fairgrounds and will be one of the first attractions as the visitors enter the grounds.

Admission to the Fair this year is 50 cents. Cars will be admitted to the parking area for 25 cents, while admission to the grandstand is 75 cents.

Trucker Spots Thieves

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jack Flener was driving his truck across a bridge when he saw in the rearview mirror the car that had been stolen from in front of his house earlier in the day. He blocked it with his truck. Two youths jumped out and fled. They were later captured on the Indiana side of the Ohio River and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Nuclear Power Plant Planned By 23 Firms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — J. B. Poston, president of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company, today announced an agreement with 22 other companies to construct and operate a nuclear power plant.

The Atomic Energy Commission last week authorized negotiations for the project, which will include designing, building and operating a fast breeder reactor plant—with a capacity of 100,000 kilowatts—to be completed late in 1959.

Poston said exact location would be subject to AEC approval, but added it is expected the plant will be located on a 1,200-acre site near Monroe, Mich., 21 miles north of Toledo.

The companies sharing the estimated 54 million dollar cost of the project include 17 electric utilities and six manufacturing firms.

All the power from the plant will be used in the Detroit Edison system, Poston said. He pointed out, however, the other companies will gain in nuclear power construction and operating information.

disease year which starts about April 1 there were 8,657 cases, compared with 11,142 a year ago.

States which have reported the largest number of cases per 100,000 population since April 1, and the rate in each, were: Idaho 23.9, Massachusetts 23.4, Nevada 20.6, Wisconsin 11.2, Texas 10.7 and New Hampshire 10.3.

The report said that although Massachusetts reported a 30 per cent increase in cases in the week ended Aug. 13 as compared with the preceding week, the State Health Department reported little extension of the disease. The 411 new cases occurred principally in communities which had been involved in previous weeks.

Cases in Boston totaled 114, compared with 84 in the previous week.

In a special discussion of the use of the Salk antipolio vaccine, the report said the communicable disease center has listed 300 confirmed post-vaccination cases. Of these, 158 were paralytic and 142 nonparalytic.

The service repeated its weekly statement that no conclusions can be drawn from such case reports as to the efficacy of the vaccine, which has been given more than 6½ million persons since it was licensed April 12.

Lights for Pedestrians To Be Given Test Here

New pedestrian control lights will be in operation at Main and Center Sts. Friday night, safety service director John Davis said this morning.

The lights will be erected today and Friday on all four corners of the intersection. They will coincide with the traffic lights, showing "walk" when the traffic lights are green and "don't walk" when the lights are red.

Davis said some cities have installed devices to have all traffic stopped when pedestrians are walking, but the installation of that type of signal here was impractical because of the limitations of the traffic control machinery.

Truck Tire Blows Out, Restaurant Is Damaged

Persons in the 200 block of N. Main St. Wednesday were give a shock when a tire on a northbound truck blew out. The truck was driven by William Earl Turcott of Detroit, police reported.

The inside right rear tire of his truck blew out and piece of the tire went flying into Vichas' Restaurant at 203 N. Main St. The piece of rubber smashed out the window glass on the front door of the place and broke a sign hanging over the door.

Witnesses in the area said the entire section of the block shook when the tire blew out and the noise sounded like a cannon.

The annual death rate in France fell from 13.5 per 1,000 to 11.9 between 1946 and 1954, and was 15 per thousand before World War II.

Tanglewood

By George Sokolsky

Each year, during the summer, I try to do as much of Tanglewood as I can, which can mean as many as four concerts a week for six weeks. It is like bathing in glorious music, in conversation about music, in disputes as to the relative merits of composers, conductors, orchestras.

SOKOLSKY

This year, it was particularly inspiring to meet a number of youngsters who attended the Berkshirt Music Center, which is part of Tanglewood, and which is producing the American musician of the future. Already two notable conductors, Leonard Bernstein and Thor Johnson, are Tanglewood products and the school has not yet celebrated its 20th anniversary, which is a mighty good showing.

Institutions of this sort grow out of an idea. If they are set up full-blown, somehow they do not mean too much. Tanglewood is now a permanent institution and it would seem to have been on the banks of the Stockbridge Bowl forever.

ACTUALLY, when Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, a resident among these hills, conceived of a few concerts during the summer, the idea was supported by the local savings banks and real estate men in the hope that they might attract residents to the beautiful Berkshires which were fading as a place for summer residence. Today, during most of the summer, it is almost impossible to find a room even in a motel or a boarding house.

That is because Mozart, Hayden, Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, and other great composers are important to Americans, particularly to young people who know much more about music than their immediate ancestors.

We used to think, up here in these hills, that if anything happened to Serge Koussevitzky, Tanglewood would fade away. Koussevitzky died. Charles Munch took his place, assisted by Pierre Monteux. The concerts are more popular than ever; the crowds are larger; and more and more of the huge audience is very young American.

TANGLEWOOD even has had a book written about its development, which gives one a feeling that it has reached a hoary age, when actually it is so very young that I can remember its first concert under a tent.

John G. W. Mahanna, a newspaper man of these parts, has written "Music Under the Moon," which tells the story of this amazing festival of which Charles Munch tol me that he has been to all the great music festivals in the world, but there is nothing like Tanglewood, nothing that equals its atmosphere, its enthusiasm.

Mahanna's book is a detailed account of how this permanent institution grew from a very simple idea in the mind of an energetic and stimulating lady, Miss Gertrude Robinson Smith, until it became the center of a renewed cultural area in the United States.

THE OTHER DAY, I was discussing this with Fritz Kreisler who summers here and whose presence in these hills grips the young people who barely get a glance at him. He spoke of names that are forgotten, Joachim, Ysaye and men of distant generations. Each generation produces its own genius and its own leadership.

If some criticize Leonard Bernstein for what they call his gyrations when he conducts, he nevertheless is able to impart an enthusiasm, an excitement, a cultural out-reaching among the young people who come to the Music Center which was described to me by another conductor as miraculous.

It is not enough to love music; it is necessary to compose and play so that all the world will love music. This, somehow, is accomplished here or thousands would not attend these concerts which are difficult to reach, on unbelievably poor roads, and with the most primitive physical facilities on the grounds. But as a youngster said to me: "Who cares? The music is wonderful!"

ONE EVENING is devoted to "Tangelwood on Parade," a potpourri of everything that is done here, including opera as managed by Boris Goldovsky.

This year, Arthur Fiedler, of the Boston "Pops," ended that evening with Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever." That may not be in the manner of Debussy, but it was in the best of taste, for it reminded us that Tanglewood is in the United States.

Here "The Star-pangled Banner" is never played. Maybe, Fiedler wanted to remind these musicians that the air they breathe in the Berkshires is American air — even if musical!

Bender Criticizes Physical Condition Of American Youth

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Sen. George H. Bender criticized the physical condition of America's youth and state Lt. Gov. John W. Brown complained about Ohio's highways in speeches here yesterday.

They spoke at a meeting of the Medina County Young Republicans Organization.

Bender said figures prepared by the New York State Journal of Medicine show that American youngsters are "far inferior" in physical strength to those in several European nations.

"Going off to school by bus or in their own hotrods, sitting around most of the day, a few minutes of exercise a week, a quick rush homeward to turn on the television set—these things do not make for physical fitness," said the senator.

Brown said Ohio's highway program is lagging 80 per cent behind the fiscal potential authorized by the voters.

The highways, he said, are "intolerable."

SKUNK IN BAKERY

CRANSTON, R. I. (UP) — A skunk in a bakery is worse than a bull in a china shop. Collier's Bakery said a visit paid by a skunk made necessary immediate destruction of $2,000 in baked goods and other products, replacement of several walls and repainting of the place.

Seed Firm Holds Kickoff Rally Here

Nearly 300 dealers of the Pfister Associated Growers, Inc., a national hybrid seed corn organization, held their annual kickoff luncheon Wednesday at the YMCA.

Dealers from all over Ohio and from four counties in Indiana attended the meeting. It was the first statewide meeting of the association held in Marion.

Speakers included Arthur Walter, president of Arthur Walter Seed Co. in Grand Ridge, Ill., the company serving Ohio, and vice president of the national organization; John D. Wilson of Ottawa, Ill., sales manager; Owen J. Nelson of Aurora, Ill., regional sales manager; Keith Kayes of Indianapolis, assistant sales manager of the Arthur Walter Co., and Pax Shaffer of Davenport, Iowa, vice president of the L. W. Ramsey Advertising Agency.

The Pfister organization has dealers throughout the corn belt. The meeting Wednesday, which lasted from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., was an annual gathering preceding the start of the sales season.

SAVED, ARRESTED

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — It was out of the frying pan and into the fire for two panic-stricken boys who had to be rescued from a 300-foot ledge on East Rock. Alfred Secondino and John Duess were promptly arrested for violating a park rule prohibiting mountain climbing.

Hotbed of Hate

By Victor Riesel

KARACHI

Here on streets crowded with genial fortune tellers, cobra - snake charmers, amiable camel cart drivers and the bustling people of an ancient bazaar in the new land of Pakistan, the American finally escapes the hatred which the New Delhi Indians breath down the neck of most U. S. visitors.

VICTOR RIESEL

India hates us.

Its leader, the pious Nehru, privately is bitterly anti - American and emotionally for the new world of socialism and the communism of Russia and China.

Yet he has taken 72½ million dollars from us in outright gifts and long term loans in the year ending June 30, 1955.

THESE AMERICAN funds have followed hundreds of millions of dollars the U.S., in the past, has given the Indian government — whose leaders are second only to the Sovietized Chinese in hatred and denunciation of our government, our leaders, our people and our capitalist system.

Officially, they are polite; privately they smirk, mock, and degrade us among the Asiatics even as they take our money. They tell their people that capitalism is doomed and that socialism is their only way out. This is the official documented position of the ruling party in India today, Nehru's "Congress party."

I dispatch this report today not to urge that we stop feeding the grimly hungry millions of India, but to point out that Nehru might at least not be our enemy while he's taking our money with both hands.

There is just no doubt that India is giving great comfort to the Communist world.

JUST A FEW DAYS ago, for example, while I was in Hong Kong, the Communist Chinese minister of war, Gen. Chen Keng, who is publicly dedicated to the destruction of our GIs, got off a speech in Peiping.

Gen. Chen, speaking at the celebration of the 28th anniversary of the day the Russians helped found the Chinese Communist army, attacked us and pledged to take Formosa by military assault.

The Chinese army, now over 4 million strong, is hardly being built to take on the Bengal Lancers or the Punjab Boy Scouts. It's being trained to fight the U.S. Make no mistake about that.

Yet, the Indian military attache in Peiping, appointed by Nehru, heard Gen. Chen unload all the anti-U.S. talk. Nehru's military attache said publicly that the growing strength of the Chinese Communist army was to the "delight of the Indian army and the Indian people."

THIS STATEMENT was broadcast by Radio Peiping to all of Asia.

Yet, some 10 million dollars of our money is going for the rehabilitation of India's railroads this year, so the Indian army, as well as food, can move over it. We're also letting them have $11,800,000 for steel and millions more for technical equipment and training.

The least we can expect for our tax money is that the so-highly moral Nehru doesn't permit his people to propagandize against us. And that he eliminate the pro-Commies from his government.

Some of his highest advisers and representatives have been members of the Communist party, or trained in Moscow, or are so valuable to the Soviets that it makes no difference whether or not they are card carrying members. It would be interesting, for experimental sake, to ask the roving Indian ambassador, Krishna Menon, what political affiliations he had in England and India.

OUR INDIAN EXPERTS know that most of Nehru's officials have an important Communist in their family, exerting great influence. There is a former ambassador to Indonesia whose son is a famous followerer of Moscow.

There is a former Indian ambassador to Washington whose wife has been in Moscow. She was almost read out of the Socialist party for following the Communist line.

The Communists have a tremendous hold on the intellectuals, newsmen and college professors who turned to Moscow out of sheer hatred of the British during the colonial days.

The Indian labor movement, in which we have some friends, is as shot through with Communist agents as the government is with pro-Soviet activities.

THE COMMIES control vital textile, rail and steel unions. Here, too, we are helping them grow.

Our money provides work for the members of these unions who, in turn, beat up and malign our friends. They have started riots throughout India and Pakistan during which as many as 400 innocent workers have been killed in a single night.

That great moralist Nehru knows all this. He knows that we, above all people, have helped his people. Now, why doesn't he implement the ethics he so piously professes and at least be neutral. Let him take our money, but let him not kick us in the face in return.

The Shutterbug

By Ed Creagh

WASHINGTON

This is the season of the amateur photographer. Innocent bystanders should take to the hills.

The shutterbug we have with us always. He goes forth laden with expensive cameras. He comes home with the rent money spent on film, filters, exposure meters, tripods. In between, he takes some pictures. You want to see them? Don't worry. You will.

He is with us the year 'round, is the shutterbug. But come this time of year, the peak of the vacation season, he is everywhere. He teeters on the brink of the Grand Canyon. He leans out over Niagara Falls. There is no escaping him.

Just try escaping him. Go to Europe. What do you find? Amateur photographers outnumbering the pigeons in Venice's St. Mark's Square. Shutterbugs shoulder-to-shoulder blocking your view at the Follies Bergere.

FOR THIS IS by no means an American peculiarity, this picture-snapping. It used to be said every German child is born with a camera in his hand. Today it appears every Japanese child is born with an F1.4 lens in the middle of his forehead.

Why this worldwide preoccupation with taking of pictures of things?

One theory is that people expect the world may be blown up any minute now and so they want to keep a record of it. The flaw here is that the picture would be blown up, too, along with the cameras and the amateur photographers. Don't expect shutterbugs to make sense.

A more immediate danger than the hydrogen bomb is the shutterbug himself.

Picture him — without a camera, please — as he wheels down the highway, photographic gear beside him, wife and kids in the back seat. A plaintive cry arises: "Daddy. Pul-lease. I mean it this time. I got to stop at a rest-room."

He doesn't even growl, as kinder daddies would, "shaddup."

His eyes are both glazed and roaming. He is looking for pictures. He is looking for the magic combination of color, composition, human interest —

"Eeeeeeek!"

—:—

HIS BRAKES SQUEAL and his wife squeals simultaneously. Behind him, other drivers brake and comment on his forebears. The shutterbug does not hear. Out the door, across the highway, fingers fumbling at the camera controls...

"What a vacation!" his shaken wife moans.

"What a vacation!" the exuberant shutterbug cries, when and if he gets back safely across that busy highway. "Got Old Faithful geyser reflected in the eye of a bear! Greatest scenic shot I ever made! Greatest anybody ever made!"

Well, it turns out, of course, after the film is developed, that the bear's eye was closed. No reflection of Old Faithful. The shutterbug is not discouraged, however. "Greatest close-up of a bear's eye ever made," he exults. "I planned it that way."

And you're going to see that foggy, out-of-focus, underexposed picture of a bear's eye, friend, wherever you live or whever you hide. The amateur photographer will track you down. J. Edgar Hoover has no agent more cunning than the shutterbug who wants to exhibit a picture.

I know because I am an amateur photographer. And, since we're talking, I happen to have a picture here. It was supposed to be the Empire State Building, but some butter off the popcorn got smeared on the lens, and —

Hey wait! where are you going? Come back!

'Acted for Farmers'

USDA Defends Motives In Cheese Transactions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says it acted "solely in the interest of American farmers" in cheese transactions frowned on by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell.

The Department issued a statement Wednesday saying it would carefully review Campbell's opinion that the deal with a number of cheese distributors was "unauthorized and improper." It did not say immediately whether it would seek to recover the estimated two million dollars paid out.

Involved were "purchase resale transactions" around April 1, 1954, when Secretary of Agriculture Benson lowered the cheese support rate from 90 to 75 per cent of parity, and cheese firms hurried to unload at the higher rate.

Under these deals, the government paid distributors 37 cents a pound for the cheese, at the 90 per cent level, then sold it back to them at 34½ cents, without ever taking actual possession of the products. The department said the arrangements were made to keep the cheese in commercial channels and thus readily available to consumers, and to avoid transportation costs.

The Department contended the transactions saved money for the taxpayers. Campbell said they cost the government about two million dollars.

The payments were said to have been made to about 100 distributors for about 90 million pounds of cheese.

Companies mentioned by subcommittee staffers included Kraft Foods Co., the Borden Co., the National Biscuit Co., A&P stores, H. J. Heinz Co., Superior Cheese Co. (a Safeway stores affiliate), and C. J. Berst & Co., Portage, Wis.

Zoo Penguin Hatching Egg—Faces Long Sit

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—That proud male king penguin at the Stanley Park zoo is now two weeks faithfully along towards hatching an egg, a penguin accomplishment which has happened only a few times in North America.

His mate is giving him no help at all.

"Normally the female relieves the male at intervals during the egg's incubation period," zoo keeper Alan Beet said today.

"But so far she's shown no willingness to take over."

The incubation period is 64 days So Mr. Penguin has a job until about Oct. 5, unless the Mrs. takes over.

Taxpayers Delinquent

CLEVELAND (AP)—Parker C. Williams, director of the Cleveland office of the Internal Revenue Bureau, said employers in his district are $5,287,000 behind in turning over money from payroll taxes. That is an increase of $1,090,000 or 26 per cent in the last 17 months, he said. A total of 7,763 employers are now on the delinquent list. Williams announced a new enforcement drive, its main target those businessmen who deduct the income tax from their employes' pay and then use the money for ready cash to help run their business.

Food Stores Plan Specials on Large Variety of Meats

By The Associated Press

Shoppers in the nation's food stores will find a variety of meats on the list of specials this weekend.

In beef, round roast will be a favorite and boneless chuck pot roast also will be popular. Steaks and prime ribs, however, will be a couple of cents a pound higher than a week ago in some stores.

Loins of pork will be a feature in some parts of the country and there will be good buys in lamb shoulder roasts.

The rise in egg prices goes on Increases of two cents a dozen on large grade "A" whites are planned in stores in many sections of the country. Butter prices show little change.

Pork prices should start coming down in the months immediately ahead. The U.S. Department of Agriculture says farmers expect to market considerably more hogs during this half of the year than they did in the same months of 1954. Abundant supplies should bring lower prices.

Stormy weather sent vegetable prices up in some sections of the country during the week, but the list of good buys include potatoes, peppers, tomatoes, eggplant and cabbage.

Fifteen per cent of U. S. families with both parents working have children under 6.

Man Held in Shooting

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A 52-year-old man, whose wife and stepson were shot and wounded yesterday in a struggle for possession of a shotgun, was held for questioning today. Police quoted Calvin Gilther as saying he got the gun after the stepson, Vernon Evans, 26, went to his home and "made a threatening motion." Adams and his mother were in Elyria Memorial Hospital with stomach wounds. Police said they had not learned the reason behind the dispute.

Depot Building Roof Collapses

Shelby Warehouse Accident Investigated

SHELBY, Ohio (AP) — Army and Air Force engineers today planned to investigate the collapse of 4,300 square feet of roof on a Shelby Air Force depot warehouse.

The cave-in occurred yesterday in a packing and crating section. Eight employes in the section fled the building 30 seconds before the collapse. They were warned by a cracking sound.

The roof, made of reinforced gypsum composition, is about 800,000 square feet in area. The collapsed portion tumbled down on an area used for storing new Air Force undergarments. No damage estimate was reported.

The 300 employes in the newly-dedicated warehouse, which cost almost six million dollars, were given temporary leave pending official investigation.

Morrow Co-Op To Start Soon On Expansion

MOUNT GILEAD — The Morrow Electric Co-Op will begin a five-year expansion program in September with a $260,000 loan from the Rural Electrification Administration.

Major projects to be financed with the new loan include two new 1500 KVA substations, one in North Bloomfield Township, Morrow County, and the other west of Batemantown in Knox County. The co-op's present Yankee St. and Harmony substations will be rebuilt to handle 66,000 instead of 33,000 supply voltage and 26 miles of new feeder lines are also included in the five-year expansion program.

First work scheduled under the new improvement program will begin in September with the construction of three miles of a new three phase line along the Williamsport-Blooming Grove road in North Bloomfield Township. Next year a new 1500 KVA substation will be erected on a site recently purchased by the co-op from Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Swartz of North Bloomfield Township.

The $260,000 loan to the Morrow co-op makes a total of $1,142,000 that REA has made available to farmers of the area for the construction of co-op power lines. Each separate loan to the co-op is for a 35 year term at two per cent interest. To date the Morrow Electric Co-Op has paid REA a total of $126,493 in interest charges. Repayment of the principle totals $299,114 of which $96,000 has been repaid in advance of the due date.

The present debt of the co-op to REA stands at $487,000 with the new $260,000 loan to be added to the co-op's debit figure only as it is actually borrowed and used over the next five years.

Failure of 'Big Three' Hampers Tribe's Flag Hopes

Al Lopez Refuses To Count Indians Out Despite Slump

DETROIT (AP) — Hold off on those Cleveland obituaries.

The Indians may be gasping, but skipper Al Lopez says they're not dying.

"We're still in pretty good shape, even though we're a game and a half out of first place," said Lopez today.

Only last Saturday night the Indians held what appeared to be a firm two-game grip on first place. They seemed ready to make a run for their second straight flag.

Then the pitching staff crumbled.

In the last three games Lopez has called on 12 pitchers—four in each game. He used Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Ray Narleski and Art Houtteman Wednesday but wound up on the short end of a 9-5 score to the Detroit Tigers.

Lemon lasted only three innings. He was cuffed for six hits and five runs.

Much of Cleveland's troubles stems from a serious decline in production of the "Big Three"—Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

They've compiled an over-all mark of 35-27, compared to 47-19 at this time last year.

Wynn leads with 14-8. Lemon is 13-8 and Garcia 8-11. A year ago today Wynn was 15-8, Lemon 17-5 and Garcia 15-5.

Lopez is anything but happy over the Tribe's hitting. Al Smith is the only regular over the .300 mark, and he tops it by only six points. Larry Doby is hitting .292—but he has only 56 RBIs.

So what's keeping the Indians up?

"Our bull pen has been great," Lopez said. "Narleski and Don Mossi have been saving us all year."

Yesterday, Frank House, the Tigers hottest hitter currently, smashed Feller's first pitch into the right field seats in the fourth inning, the first run Feller has allowed in 10 consecutive relief appearances. House also had a double; Al Kaline hit a two-run triple and two singles; and Bill Tuttle rapped three singles.

Larry Doby, Bob Avila and Gene Woodling homered off Jim Bunning, the Tigers starter. The victory went to Babe Birrer, who took the hill for the Tigers in the fifth and blanked the Tribe on three singles the rest of the way.

American Leading In Canadian Open

TORONTO (AP)—If Charlie Sifford can push his luck again today he will send the Canadian Open Golf tournament chase into another tailspin.

The jazz-minded United States national Negro champion from Philadelphia fired a sensational first-round 63 Wednesday, nine under par. It equalled the Canadian Open record for any one round.

Jerry Barber of Laguna Beach, Calif., shot a hole in one on 130-yard par three fourth hole but gained only a four-way share of sixth place at 67.

One stroke back of Sifford, with 64, was Arnold Palmer, 1954 U.S amateur champion and at 66 were Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga.

400 Young Pheasants Are Turned Loose in County

Game Protector Asserts Program Benefit to Hunters in Area

Four hundred young cock pheasants were released in Marion County yesterday afternoon by Jim Thatcher, new county game protector.

The pheasants were released in heavily-hunted areas of the county and were in addition to 300 hen pheasants released on Aug 9. The birds released yesterday were approximately 13 weeks old and all were able to fly.

THATCHER reported the birds had been reared in semi-wild conditions and will be able to forage for themselves. He sees the release of the birds as a great benefit for hunters in this county. The birds are all banded and Thatcher has issued a special request to hunters bagging any of the roosters to return the bands. He reported that over the years only 10 per cent of the tags from banded birds have been returned to state wildlife officials.

The 300 hen pheasants released earlier this month were set free on county game refuge areas where a plentiful food and coverage supply will be available. Thatcher expressed hope that many of these hens will survive the coming hunting season and winter, thus adding to the supply of nesting hens next spring.

"Since the average hen pheasant is lucky to bring three of four chicks through the nesting season it is quite apparent that every possible hen is needed if Marion County is to continue producing a harvestable crop of cock birds each fall," Thatcher pointed out.

O. H. NEIMEYER, retired game protector here, has long insisted that enough rooster pheasants survive the hunting season for reproductive purposes. He has said the main need always has been for additional hens.

Thatcher, who now resides at 136 N. Vine St., appealed to area hunters to avoid killing the hen pheasants. "The hunter who shoots hens is no better than an ordinary thief," he said. "He is stealing from his fellow man and is destroying the reproductiveness of our pheasants." Thatcher may be contacted by telephone at 2-1779.

STOCKING AREA. Part of the 400 pheasants released yesterday are being turned loose here in the Ordnance Plant area north of the city. Freeing the birds are (left to right) Robert Ford, Jim Thatcher and Bob Hull. Thatcher is Marion County game protector and the other men also are employes of the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Bag 7-1 Verdict

Bosox Stop Yankees' Win Streak on Delock's 5-Hitter

By The Associated Press

Each contending manager in the American League maintains his guys are going to win, but none of them really sounds convincing.

Just a couple of days ago, Al Lopez of Cleveland said there wasn't much chance of one club getting hot and racing off with the flag—but if any club could do it, his Indians could.

Chicago's Marty Marion, sure his White Sox will come out on top, nevertheless conceded he couldn't see all that New York talent going to rot.

Stengel Fears Boston

Casey Stengel patted his Yankees on the head and warned that the Boston Red Sox were not to be written off.

So what happens? Detroit up and busts Cleveland for the second straight day Wednesday 9-5. Boston wallops the Yanks off a seven-game streak 7-1 behind the excellent pitching of Ike Delock.

All of which left the Yanks just one game and three percentage points ahead of the White Sox, who were idle. Chicago is half a game up on the Indians who are but two games ahead of fourth-place Boston.

The Tigers whacked Bob Lemon for six hits and five runs in three innings.

Jim Bunning gave up solo homers to Larry Doby, Bobby Avila and Gene Woodling, before Babe Birrer came on to win in relief. Al Kaline, back up to 350 to top major league hitters, and Bill Tuttle had three hits each in the Tigers' 14-hit attack.

Hoot Evers suffered an eye injury when struck by his own foul in a pinch role for the Indians.

The Yanks, who three times have won seven in a row this season, gave up their chance at eight straight as Boston scored five times in the sixth inning. Grady Hatton and Jim Piersall laced Bob Turley for back-to-back triples to get the frame under way.

Delock, a 25-year-old right-hander, checked the Bombers on two hits until the seventh when Elston Howard's double and a pinch single by Joe Collins scored the Yanks' run. He gave five hits for the night.

A twi-night doubleheader between Baltimore and the Nats at Washington was rained out.

In the National League, Brooklyn lost its second straight to New York 5-1; Milwaukee homered past St. Louis 11-4; Chicago regained fifth place from Cincinnati 3-2, and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Mays Stars

Willie Mays led the Giants' attack with a triple, two singles and a walk and figured in all of New York's runs. Ramon Monzant, going the distance for the first time in the majors, won his second while scattering eight hits and striking out eight.

Del Crandall's grand-slammer in the eighth put the Braves beyond reach, following earlier homers by Andy Pafko and Ed Mathews that had built a 5-4 lead.

Hank Sauer, only a sometimes starter with the Cubs these days, belted a pair of homers for all of Chicago's runs. Smol Burgess hit a two-run shot in the first for the Redlegs before Bob Rush settled down for his 10th victory.

The Phils got three runs in the first, then Elroy Face knuckled down while the Pirates battled back with 16 hits, 11 of them off loser Curt Simmons. Richie Ashburn, tops in NL hitting, pulled a back muscle trying to beat out a hit and left the game in the second inning.

Railroad Nine Ties Local for Softball Crown

Erie No. 2 tied Local 1949 for the final round championship of Industrial League No. 2 by whipping the previous loop leaders 6-5 in nine innings at Garfield Park last night.

Erie's first round champs won it on a double by Cottrill after Burke had walked in the last half of the ninth.

Cottrill on the hill held the Local 1949 squad to seven hits while he and his teammates collected nine off Green.

The winners assumed a 3-0 bulge in the second with three markers but then were forced to come from behind as Local 1949 pecked away to go ahead. The losers came up with single runs in the fourth and sixth, then tallied three in the seventh for a 5-3 advantage. Erie pushed across two in the bottom of the same frame to knot the score and send it into extra innings.

Brumfield and Carr had two hits each for Erie.

Sauer Powers Bruins to Win Over Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—It was an old Redleg who knocked the Cincinnati Redlegs back into sixth place in the National League last night.

Hank Sauer, who was a favorite and then a target of lusty boos at Crosley Field only a few years ago, got back into the Chicago Cubs lineup for the first time since Aug. 5 and blasted two home runs which gave the Bruins a 3-2 victory over the Rhinelanders.

Sauer, who hasn't been used very much this season, was benched on Aug. 5 because of weak hitting but he couldn't be accused of that last night.

His first wallop out of the park came in the second inning after Ernie Banks had singled and wiped out a 2-0 Cincinnati lead. His second circuit smash came in the fourth with no one on base and proved to be the deciding marker.

The Cubs could have been excused, too, if they had folded up completely after the Reds' first inning. In that frame Johnny Temple opened with a single and Smoky Burgess socked a home run. That was exactly the way the Reds started Tuesday night when they clobbered the Cubs, 11-2.

Last night was different, however.

Bob Rush settled down after that shaky start and didn't allow the Redlegs another run although he was in trouble a good part of the way.

One of his shakiest moments came in the eighth and it may turn out to have been a blow to the Reds in more ways than one. In that frame Gus Bell and Stan Palys singled with one out but Palys was cut down as he tried to reach second on a futile Cub attempt to get Bell at third. So instead of having men on first and third with one out, the Reds had only a man on third with two out and pinch hitter Bob Thurman grounded out.

In addition, Palys injured his right hand sliding into second and had to be removed from the game. He was taken to Christ Hospital for X-rays and there was some belief he might be out of the lineup for a week or 10 days.

The battle for fifth place in the league was to be resumed this afternoon with Art Fowler the likely Cincinnati starting pitcher against Paul Minner.

A Redleg victory would push the locals ahead of the Cubs again.

Rookies Slated To Play With Browns Friday

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Two big Ohioans who gave the Cleveland Browns headaches in the College All-Star game last Friday try Saturday night to help the Browns who open a five-game exhibition schedule in Akron against the Green Bay Packers.

Sam Palumbo of Cleveland, a center and linebacker from Notre Dame, and Tom Jones of Cincinnati, a defensive tackle from Miami (Ohio), definitely will play for the national professional football champs, Coach Paul Brown said.

Jones, 24, and Palumbo, 23, have been with the Browns only for this week's practice. Other rookies against whom they're competing for jobs have had a month to get used to the Browns' system.

Palumbo's brilliant play for the All-Stars in Chicago and the decision last week by center Jack Locklear, Auburn rookie, to quit the Browns because of a heart murmur are two factors which increase Sam's chances of seeing considerable exhibition game action.

As for Jones, Don Colo, a defensive regular, suffered a broken bone in his right hand in the All-Star game and will have it in a cast for a couple of weeks. John Sandusky will move into Colo's spot, but Jones is assured of added opportunity to get into the practice games.

The Packers, who looked good last week in beating the New York Giants 31-24, have in their squad three of the All-Stars who humbled the Browns 30-27 at Chicago. The trio are Henry Bullough of Canton, Ohio, a Michigan State offensive guard; Jim Temp of Wisconsin, a defensive end, and linebacker Tom Bettis of Purdue.

Toledo Nips Saints, Millers Hike Skein

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis just keeps a going along the winning route. The Millers last night completed a clean sweep of their three-game American Association series with Charleston by downing the Senators 7-2 for their 14th straight victory.

Louisville blasted Wally Burnette for five runs in the ninth inning to come from behind and defeat second place Denver, 6-2, in the last meeting of the season between the teams.

In other action, Toledo defeated St. Paul 5-1, and Omaha clipped Indianapolis 6-3.

Ashland Little Leaguers Beaten 4-3 in Title Game

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — The Midwest Regional Little League baseball champions from Hamtramck, Mich were ready today to move on to Williamsport, Pa., to compete for the national title.

Hamtramck won the regional meet Wednesday night by defeating Ashland, Ohio, 4-3. Pitcher Jerry Semczak put his team into the finals by clouting a grand-slam home run—good for all of Hamtramck's four runs in the second inning.

Jets Split Pair With Montreal; Toronto Leads

By The Associated Press

Loren Babe, former New York Yankee and Philadelphia Athletic third baseman, has whacked five hits in his last 11 times at bat to help the Toronto Maple Leafs regain first place in the International League.

Babe knocked in two runs as the Maple Leafs edged the Richmond Virginians 3-2 last night, to climb back into the top rung, one percentage point ahead of the Montreal Royals who split a doubleheader with the Columbus Jets.

The Jets took the opener 4-1, but Montreal came back behind the three hit pitching of Glenn Cox to take the nightcap 7-1. The Havana Sugar Kings fell three games off the pace by dividing a twinbill with the Rochester Red Wings.

The Cubans ended a 29 inning scoreless string with a 3-0 decision after dropping the opener 4-0. The Buffalo Bisons and Syracuse Chiefs also swapped a pair. The Bisons won the first game 1-0 and the Chiefs took the second 4-3.

Woman's $13,000 Is Squandered on Fling With Ex-Con

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said Alfred Harris Smith went on a cross-country jaunt with a Dayton woman, squandered her $13,000 in Las Vegas and was picked up here yesterday with 87 cents.

Smith was being held in city jail for investigation. Det. Sgt. C. M. Teeter said Smith had gotten the woman's money under "peculiar circumstances" which were not divulged. Neither was the woman's name disclosed.

Teeter said the woman returned from the trip with Smith, made a complaint, "but has been reluctant to press charges."

Herbert M. Jacobson, assistant Montgomery County Prosecutor, said Smith is wanted by New York authorities for parole violation. He had served time in Sing Sing Prison for first degree assault, Jacobson said. Smith will be returned to New York, the prosecutor added.

Prisoner Attempts To Burn Way Out With Pencil Torch

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A prisoner at Montgomery County Jail devised a unique torch to burn his way out, but the sheriff put out the flames of freedom.

Sheriff Bernard L. Keiter said Charles Daily, 23, of Middletown, used a wire from a radio set and an ordinary lead pencil to improvise his electric torch. Keiter said the wire was plugged into an outlet and the other end connected to the pencil and a ground.

The sheriff said Daily actually burned a small hole in the metal of the ceiling. Daily is in jail on a robbery charge.

But, said Keiter:

"There were at least a couple of things wrong with his scheme. It would have taken him quite a while to burn a hole big enough to crawl through, and besides, there's about one foot of concrete above the metal ceiling."

If Davy Name Can Sell This, Heaven Help Us

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An acre of the farm near here where Davy Crockett was born is being offered for sale at $1 per square inch by New Frontiers, Inc., a Florida promotion group.

Courthouse records show the acre was purchased recently by Joe Garrett Jr. of Miami for $600. If every square inch were sold, the promotors would gross $2,352,240. The deed states that each square inch is to be used for residential purposes only.

House Falls, 13 Killed

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Thirteen persons were killed Wednesday in the collapse of a five-story house. Firemen rescued 23 persons from the debris.

The Clark's crow is a gray and white bird with black trimmings.

Mount Gilead Harness Race Card Ends Friday

MOUNT GILEAD — Final session of the harness horse racing program at the Morrow County Fair here is scheduled Friday at 1 p.m.

A total of 34 horses went to the post this afternoon in four races which got the fair racing program under way.

Fifteen of them were entered in the opening event, the two-year-old 225 pace, and it was split into two divisions. The drivers will be competing for $500 purses in each race.

Walcott Helps Capture Pair of Young Escapees

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, former heavyweight boxing champion, captured two escapees from the state home for boys Wednesday night in a short street chase after a sporting goods store was burglarized and robbed of $25.

Walcott is a special juvenile investigating officer attached to the Camden Police Department. Police said he and patrolman Bernal Ford were standing a few feet away when the teen-age boys fled from the store.

Vic Janowicz Kicks Skins to 31-28 Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Little Eddie LeBaron, a midget among pro football giants at only 168 pounds, pitched four touchdown passes to give the Washington Redskins a well deserved 31-28 victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

The game, played before 77,935 fans in the Memorial Coliseum for Los Angeles Times Charities, Inc., was decided by the margin of a field goal in the second period—a 20-yard boot by Vic Janowicz, former Ohio State star.

LeBaron pitched two touchdown passes to Ralph Thomas and two more to Johnny Carson, the last one for 51 yards.

Norman Van Brocklin, Los Angeles quarterback, hit Tom Fears and "Seabiscuit" Boyd for touchdown passes and the Rams got two scores on the ground. Rookie Corky Tharp of Alabama rambling 29 yards for one on a pitchout, and Dan Towler bowled his way for 10 for the game's final tally.

Man Wants His Canary To Be in Jail With Him

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Jack Benson wrote to his home in Columbus Ohio, and asked them to send him his canary. It arrived Wednesday, but an express man had a hard time finding the address, 123 W. 3rd St.

Finally he discovered it was the county jail.

Benson, held on a bad check charge, paid $3.70 express charges—in cash—and took the bird.

HENNEY & COOPER PICTURE TALK by Kent

"Do I have to use a light meter with this camera?" That's a question we hear almost daily. The answer, "No." But we always like to qualify that "No." There are times, in average bright light when you can judge your exposure very well by simply following the instructions which are supplied with the film.

But there are other times when the available light may be far from normal, and when this happens you really have to be lucky to expose your film properly by guess.

Let's put it this way: if you use a light meter and follow it's readings faithfully, your pictures will be far more uniform than they can possibly be if a meter is not used. Actually, a meter will pay for itself in film and pictures saved, because a meter not only tells you what exposure to use, but also tells you when it's no use to try.

Modern meters are easy to use, and are priced most reasonably.

Drop in, look over our stock. All leading makes, one of which is probably just what you need.

Good Hitter

Dressen Is Sold on Youth In Initial Bid at Majors

By FRANK ECK
Associated Press Staff Writer

"Wait'll you see this little guy hit line drives," Charley Dressen enthused from behind the batting cage. "His name's Ernie Oravetz. He's only 5-feet-4 and a pretty good little hitter. His father's a coal miner.

"Let's see you drag one," Dressen ordered the chunky 150-pound bespectacled left - handed swinger.

"Now be on the run and take the bat with you," instructed Washington's new manager. "That is how you can get a jump on everybody."

He dragged two of the most beautiful bunts anyone would care to see, a la Richie Ashburn.

"Ashburn's faster," Dressen observed.

"Man on first, pull one to right field and get him to second," Dressen ordered.

ORAVETZ, who has spent two years in the Army, including 15 months in Germany, double crossed the skipper. He sliced an outside pitch to left field. Dressen laughed.

"All right," said Dressed, "you got him to second the hard way. Now you've got to pull one to right to get him in."

ERNIE ORAVETZ
Newcomer for Nats

Oravetz dug in and took a vicious swing for a guy who looks like he's standing in a hole. The ball sailed on a line to the right field wall 337-feet away, foul by inches.

"All right," said the man the Dodgers fired in 1953 when he asked for more expense money. "In a game that would have scored a run."

Oravetz apparently can do a lot for a little guy. In 1951, his first year in baseball after three years of center fielding for Johnstown, Pa., High, he led the Class D Florida State League with a .364 mark for the Orlando Senators. In 1952 he batted .306 as regular right fielder for Chattanooga in the AA Southern Association.

—:—

AFTER LEAVING the batting cage Oravetz ran to the outfield to shag flies and Dressen followed.

"When you were at Chattanooga how did they try to pitch to you?" Dressen asked the 23-year-old rookie.

"High and outside," Oravetz replied.

"Well, when you get up there at the plate try to crouch a little like Eddie Stanky. Then they won't have much of a strike zone," said Dressen. "When they see you do that they'll try to throw you strikes.

"I might want to put you in a game and tell you to bust the first pitch. Maybe when I'm talking to you they'll think I'm telling you to draw a walk.

"Pull your pants up high around your knees. That also helps shorten the strike zone, and the suit will look better on you."

The Senators picked up Oravetz at a 1951 baseball school he paid to attend at Coca, Fla. Chances are in 10 minutes under Dressen he learned more than he ever had at a baseball school.

Ben-Gurion Seeks To Form Cabinet

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, Israel's elder statesman called back to the premiership, said today he hoped to form a new cabinet "on as broad a basis as possible" within a week.

Defense minister and Mapai party labor leader, Ben-Gurion was asked by Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi to form a government amid predictions he will have a tough time.

Ben-Gurion told reporters he will try to revive the Jewish state's first broad coalition established immediately after its foundation.

Warehouse Is Entered, Slight Damage Reported

Vandals who broke into the Lumberman's Supply warehouse on Quarry St. Tuesday night apparently did no more than damage the building, police reported today.

The break-in was reported to police Wednesday morning by officials of the firm. Police found sliding doors on the building had been forced open by the vandals. Once inside they damaged a panel on the door of an office and scattered some of the contents of the building about. Officials reported nothing was missing.

Drum, Bugle Corps Planning For Cavalcade of Music Here

The Cavalier Drum & Bugle Corps of Bird McGinnis American Legion Post 162 is preparing for the high point in its yearly competition — the second annual Cavalcade of Music.

The event will be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11, at the Harding High School athletic field. Proceeds from the event will transport the Corps to the National Convention in Miami, Fla., in October.

Last year, approximately 3,000 persons turned out to watch the local Corps and others from the Midwest Drum & Bugle Corps Circuit put on a three-hour music and marching show. Corps expected at this year's show are the Lamplighters of Detroit, Mich., Michigan state Legion champs, the Comets of Portland, Ind., Indiana state champs; Satan's Angels of Bellefontaine, sixth place winners in the National Legion competition at Washington, D.C., last year; the Toledo Demons; The Gayly Grenadiers of Forestville, O.; ad the Gladiators of Circleville, O.

Arrangements have already been started for the local group's trip to Florida and a plane has been chartered by the Corps and Legion post. Some members will travel by car, taking their families. Some 70 persons in all are expected to make the trip.

In competition only two years, the Cavaliers this year placed fourth in the state Legion competiton, then took third in competition at Portland, Ind., and only last week captured second at Circleville.

Dance Plans Set

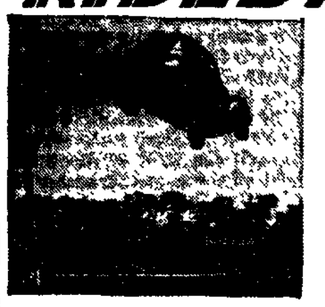
DEATH RIDES AGAIN



This "LEAP OF DEATH" has taken the lives of 7 great Auto Daredevils: Jack Perry, Lucky Teeter, Snook Wentzel, Tommy Marcus, Johnny Roberts, Walt Owens and has sent many others to hospitals. Three famous Auto Daredevils will each jump a passenger automobile through space, each trying to break the now 90 foot world's record, when the International Auto Daredevil Championship Contest is held at the Marion County Fair, Marion, Sunday afternoon and night only, August. 21st.

There will be 33 different events on the biggest program ever of Outstanding Auto and Motorcycle Daredevil stunts, and three great thrill shows will compete for the 1955 World Championship. They are Dick Rogers' "All American" Motor Maniacs, Billy Green's Famous Canadian Aces, and Ward Beam's 1954 World Champions.

Shorter Apprenticeship For Printers Is Voted

BOSTON (AP) — The International Typographical Union (AFL) has approved a change in its by-laws under which an apprentice could become a journeyman printer in four years instead of six.

However, under the change approved Wednesday, the apprentice would have to be deemed proficient by a joint committee of union and employer representatives.

Another change approved would permit apprentices to be transferred from one shop to another during training. The purpose of this would be to help the apprentices "keep abreast of technological improvements."

Indicted for Murders

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert J. Miller, 19, who police said confessed to stabbing and hammering his mother and step - father to death, was indicted on two counts of first degree murder yesterday The bodies of Gomer P. Thomas 50, and his wife, Betty, 39, were found in the bedroom of their Columbus home Aug. 8. Police said Miller admitted killing them after a quarrel with his mother over his dating a 16-year-old girlfriend. Miller was arrested Aug. 9 at Cambridge while returning to Columbus after driving through east coast states in his step-father's car.

Son of Well-Known Actress and Writer To Make TV Debut

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK, (AP)—There are both advantages and disadvantages to being the son of well-known parents. Some people might say that any break you get is thanks to pull. But when you produce—brother, you'd better produce, for the eyes of the world are on you.

Such are the problems buzzing around the head of a cool young fellow named Jim MacArthur, the son of writer Charles MacArthur and actress Helen Hayes. But if he's aware of them, he's not talking about them. At the age of 17 he's being dealt into the game slowly—and he's playing his cards close to the vest. The game is acting.

Jim MacArthur is the sort of guy parents are proud of because he's a guy who's proud of his parents. He merely wants to make sure he isn't trading on their name. He wants to move on his own merits.

Just one week from tonight, on Thursday, Aug. 25, he makes his television debut in "Deal A Blow" on CBS-TV's Climax. In that drama he plays the role of a youth who's badly misunderstood by his elders.

But when you meet Jim MacArthur in real life it's hard to see how his elders could misunderstand him. He's without guile and shuns a corny line.

"I think I want to go into the theater," he says. "I've seen a lot of it, thanks to Mother, and I think I'd like it. But I don't want to rush it. Maybe I haven't got what it takes, and that's why I want to go on to college and be prepared for something else."

Man's Death Investigated

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The coroner's office today was investigating the death of an Akron attorney-manufacturer whose body was recovered from Lake Erie yesterday after he disappeared from a cabin cruiser. Albert M. Walker, 77, president - treasurer of the Walker China Co. in Bedford, disappeared Tuesday night while on a fishing trip with friends. Funeral services will be Saturday in Akron.

Akron Youth, 16, To Be Discharged From Army Again

CLEVELAND (AP)—Because he's only 16 years old, Ray Hafer of Akron is going to be discharged from the Army—for the third time.

Nattily garbed in Army suntans, Hafer was picked up in a downtown bar last night after a curious military policeman asked to see his pass.

"I don't have any furlough papers," he said frankly to the MP.

But, he added, "I have discharge papers. In fact, I have been discharged twice."

Hafer had been AWOL from the Army base at Fort Knox, Ky., since last Jan. 25, which was 10 days after his third enlistment under the assumed name of Ray E. Fisher at the age of 15. He said he's been working at a Ford plant here since that, but a search of company records failed to confirm this.

He first joined the Army when he was 13. The Army discharged him when his mother, Mrs. Thelma Smith of Akron, disclosed his true age. He went through a similar cycle the next year. He is big for his age now, as he was when he was 13.

Held in the county jail last night, he will be taken to Fort Hayes in Columbus, where, undoubtedly, he will be discharged again.

Which leaves a logical question: Will he enlist at a legal 17 as he did at 13, 14 and 15?

Woman Is Sentenced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Betty Ann Robinson, 31, of Columbus, drew a 1-10 year term in Marysville Women's Reformatory yesterday for signing her daughter's name to a document waiving the five-day waiting period to get married. The daughter, 13, married the same day the waiver was issued. Her bridegroom, Francis L. Grambo, 21, Columbus, was sentenced to 1-10 years in Mansfield Reformatory July 1 for his part in the scheme. Both Mrs. Robinson and Grambo were convicted of perjury. Authorities said Mrs. Robinson posed as Grambo's intended bride when they appeared in probate court to get the waiver certificate.

William Charle Named to Post At RCA Division in New Jersey

William W. Charle, plant comptroller for the Pollak Steel Co., has been appointed manager of facilities planning, tube division, Radio Corporation of America, he announced today.

The division offices are at Harrison, N. J., where Charle will assume his new duties Sept. 1.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., Charle attended public schools in Chicago and was graduated from the University of Illinois, where he was varsity football quarterback three years—in 1931, 1935 and 1936.

After graduation he was employed by McKinsey, Wellington and Co., management engineers, in Chicago. He subsequently was associated with Kimberly-Clark Paper Co. at Neenah, Wis.

In 1942 he entered the U. S. Navy as a lieutenant, junior grade, and served until 1946. His sea duty included a tour as captain of a submarine chaser and another as executive officer aboard an escort aircraft carrier. In the latter position he was a full commander on a spot promotion, but was placed on the retired list of the naval reserve last year as a lieutenant commander.

After his release from naval service he joined the Central Soya Co. of Fort Wayne and with that firm came to Marion as plant manager of the McMillen Feed Mills. He became associated with the Pollak Steel Co. in 1949.

Charle is a member of Marion Rotary Club, is on the board of directors of Marion Country Club and has been a member of the Reserve Officers Association. He also has participated in numerous local community drives, including the United Appeals, YMCA, Red Cross, hospital and polio fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Charle and their two children, Suzanne, 7, and William, 3, reside at 645 S. Prospect St. They will live in Short Hills, N. J., after Oct. 1.

The British Navy has discovered that paddle wheel tugs are more effective than those with propellers for pushing aircraft carriers in dockyards, says the National Geographic Society.

He Says Man Gave Him $60,480, Will Get $5,000 Bequest

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—His friendship for a Milwaukee optometrist caused Fred A. Thomas a lot of trouble but the red-haired restaurant worker will get $5,000 from the man's estate.

Dr. Albert Napientek, the optometrist, died in a Miami Beach hotel room last April 13.

A week later Thomas was found in a motel room at Dunedin with $60,480 of Napientek's money under the bed. Thomas claimed the optometrist gave him the cash to invest in a barbecue stand, but a charge of larceny was filed.

Harold Shapiro, attorney for Napientek's widow, said Wednesday Thomas has agreed to settle his claim for $5,000.

The larceny charge is expected to be dropped.

Nippon Soldier Given Training American Style

TOKYO (UP) — The new Japanese soldier, stripped of World War II's fanatical emperor worship, is training like an American GI, but some Japanese officers fear his fighting spirit may be weak.

They point out that Japan's present distrust of a military establishment is affecting the morale of the nation's new defense force.

Japan, although constitutionally barred from maintaining an armed force, reorganized its police-type security forces into a self-defense army, navy and air force last year with American blessing and arms.

The "self defense" tag, plus widespread Japanese opposition to war and rearmament, is undermining troop morale, officers say.

"Our men don't think they're real soldiers," said Col. Ichiro Itoi, commander of Nerima Infantry Camp on the outskirts of Tokyo.

Anti-War Feeling

"If Japan is to have a real army, it must go all the way and not try to dodge around the constitution by calling it a watered-down defense force."

But the "no war" clause in Japan's post-war constitution, written under strong Allied occupation influence, is politically popular, particularly among women and students.

Many Japanese believe their nation can avoid entanglement in an East-West war by remaining militarily weak. They feel that with an armed force Japan is almost certain to become involved in another war which would destroy the nation.

Japan's modest ground, sea and air defense force is being enlarged from 150,000 to 180,000 men this year with more than $100,000,000 in U. S. defense aid.

The new Japanese soldier wears American-style uniforms and boots and carries U. S. weapons.

He has dropped the Prussian goosestep and marches like an American soldier. He even sleeps in U. S. Army steel cots, with blankets tucked in the GI-way, instead of on the straw-matted platforms of the old army.

"We have taken the outside of the U. S. Army," Colonel Itoi said, "but we don't have the inside morale."

Not Like Old Days

Most of the Japanese enlisted men are too young to have served in the Imperial Army and Navy which fought more than a decade ago, shouting "Banzai" to the Emperor.

But many of their officers served in the wartime army, which trained by kicks and slaps and taught that capture was a disgrace and that bailing out of a crippled warplane was a cowardly act.

A former private in the wartime Imperial Army visited Camp Nerima and said he was "amazed" at the freedom allowed Japanese soldiers today.

"We had nothing like this in the old days," he said.

In the all-volunteer defense force, a man or officer can resign at any time.

"Non-coms are strictly forbidden to strike a soldier," Colonel Itoi said. "If they do, they are punished."

Instead of eating leftovers after serving non-commissioned officers, recruits and privates now mess separately from their seniors. All eat the same fare.

Chicago's Auto Club Lists Tips For Vacations

CHICAGO (UP) — If you're planning a trip by car, either this vacation season or the next, it's best to figure out the number of days and dollars you can afford, the Chicago Motor Club advises.

For two passengers, says the club, $30 a day should be allowed, provided that you're not travelling more than 300 miles a day Here's the breakdown on a daily basis for two:

Car operating costs — $9. This amount is computed at 2½ cents per mile for gas and oil. The extra $1.50 goes for maintenance expenses.

Meals—$8. The cost is figured at 75 cents for breakfast, $1 25 for lunch and at least $2 for dinner.

Lodging—$8. Rates at hotels and motor courts appear to be about the same though a traveling family will save on garage charges and tips at a motel. Overnight accommodations for two range from $4 to $10, depending on the type and locality.

Admission, amusements, and tolls—$2. This covers admission for such places as shrines and other attractions.

Incidentals, souvenirs and emergencies—$3. This includes roadside refreshments, postcards, films, toothpaste, etc.

If you take along two children, say teen-agers, the food bill will be doubled, the club says. Lodging cost will jump about one-half and other charges will be increased The total bill will be about $46 daily for a family of four.

To stretch your travel dollar, the motor club suggests:

1. Drive during the early part of the day so you can spend plenty of time to find the type of accommodation you want at a price you can afford.

2. Avoid "tourist traps." Visit travel attractions that are worthwhile.

3. Plan your vacation, if possible, for the spring and autumn, thereby avoiding peak travel seasons.

Sultan Gets More Time To Set Up Government

PARIS (AP)—The French government today gave Sultan Mohamed Ben Moulay Arafa "a few more days" to form a broad Moroccan government that would put the protectorate on the way to home rule and quell mounting violence.

The announcement was made after a four-hour Cabinet meeting over which President Rene Coty presided.

The French Cabinet ministers are scheduled to meet later today to set up a conference of both French and Moroccans to see what can be done if Ben Moulay Arafa fails, as it is generally expected that he will.

Official French reports from Morocco disclosed more violence in the protectorate. At least four persons died in Casablanca Wednesday night and seven were wounded, including a French doctor whose car was stoned.

Boy Cops 1,500 Pencils, Now He's Set for School

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Police arrested a 13-year-old boy Wednesday who admitted taking 1,500 pencils in a Sunday burglary at an advertising firm.

"What in the world did you want with all those pencils," officers asked.

"Well," replied the boy, "school starts pretty soon."

Schmidt's Mother Hasn't Given Up Her Hope of Reconciliation

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The mother of Airman Daniel C. Schmidt says she has not given up hope of a reconciliation between him and his remarried wife Una.

The mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, 43, said Wednesday night she would have to hear it from her son that he definitely was through with his wife.

"Danny never said anything like that to me," said Mrs. Peters, who has talked to her son by telephone since he came home to find Una married to another man. Mrs. Peters has not heard from Schmidt for several days but expects him to visit her soon.

She recalled that her son told her he was going to work out the problem himself but "now others have entered the picture and it doesn't sound like Danny any more."

Mrs. Peters was referring to a statement by Schmidt's attorney Howard Welch, of Sacramento, that Schmidt has made up his mind he does not want a reconciliation.

"There has been no one trying to get them back together," she said. "Even the lawyers don't seem to want them to try to piece it together again."

The former Mrs. Schmidt said she remarried in the belief Schmidt was dead. The young airman was recently released from Red Chinese captivity.

According to Mrs. Peters, Una telephoned her Monday and asked for her help in seeking "Danny's forgiveness."

"She was scared stiff . . . She's just a confused kid of 19," Mrs. Peters said. "Maybe she made a mistake—but I can't help think of what Christ said of another who made a mistake. He said let him without sin cast the first stone."

The airman's mother quoted Una as saying she had left her second husband, Alford Fine, and was in hiding with hers and Schmidt's 2-year-old son.

"She told me," Mrs. Peters said, " 'as soon as I put my nose out of hiding they will take away my baby.' "

Crestline School District Voters To Decide $400,000 Bond Issue

CRESTLINE — Crestline school district voters will decide a $400,000 bond issue Nov. 8 for construction of a new 14 room elementary school.

The issue will add about three mills per thousand dollars of taxable property to the tax rate. The average over the 20-year period would be 2.5 mills.

The proposed building would be a one-story school and no cafeteria would be included. The school would contain 12 elementary classrooms, one all-purpose room for a gym, an auditorium, kindergarten room, modern rest rooms, administration office, storage facilities, first aid room complete hot water heating system and a playground. Plans for the building are being drawn by Mann, Knapp and Crawfis, Mansfield engineering firm employed by the school board.

Planned for North

The school would be constructed on the north side of town where new families have settled in Crestline.

With 19 grades having only 18 classrooms, every available space in the present buildings will be utilized this fall, including the old South building which is being reopened in order to have four additional classrooms in use. This is the first time the building has been in use in 10 years .

If voters support the issue, it would be the first expansion of educational facilities in Crestline within the last 30 years.

Increased Enrollment

Because of an increase in enrollment of about 50 pupils, all classes will be overcrowded with about 50 pupils assigned to each classroom. One classroom at the Washington elementary school will house two grades.

The State Department of Education has asked that the home economics department be moved from the basement of Central elementary school so that a separate cooking and sewing room can be established.

Shoots Foreman in Plant

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—Terry Dodson, 32-year-old Piqua machinist, will be given a hearing tomorrow on a charge of shooting with intent to wound. Dodson was arraigned yesterday on the charge following a shooting at the Piqua Tubing Division of Armco Steel Corp. Foreman Frank Ventura, 53, was shot three times in the left leg. Police said Dodson surrendered at headquarters, saying he had shot Ventura in an attempt "to cripple him and get him out of there."

Real Politician

Soviet Agriculture Chief Has a Promising Future

Tom Whitney, writer of the following article, is a former Associated Press correspondent in Moscow. Now assigned to the AP foreign desk in New York, he is accompaning the Soviet farm delegation on its tour of the country.

By TOM WHITNEY

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Vladimir Matskevich is a Communist politician with a promising future.

This bald and rotund 44-year-old Ukrainian, acting minister of agriculture of the U.S.S.R. and chief of the Russian farm delegation now touring the United States, looks like one of the brighter rising stars in the Soviet political heavens.

—:—

I HAVE BEEN TOURING with the Soviet farm delegation for four weeks. I have watched Matskevich with particular interest. And I've conversed with him on numerous occasions.

I have been impressed with his flare for making friends and influencing people.

For example, at the Chamber of Commerce dinner for the Russians at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, an Iowan rose and asked Matskevich:

"When Premier Malenkov resigned, his statement referred to mistakes in farm policy as one of the reasons for his resignation. What were those mistakes?"

Immediately another Iowan rose.

"We have agreed," he said, "that we will not discuss controversial questions at this dinner. Therefore I suggest the question be withdrawn."

Matskevich listened to the exchange through an interpreter.

"But I would like to answer the question please," he said.

"When Premier Malenkov resigned, in his statement he covered the reasons for his resignation quite fully, and I don't have anything to add to that."

—:—

HIS AUDIENCE thought he had answered the question but he had said nothing. The impression he had created was of an open and honest man.

And this has been the story all the way around on this lengthy tour.

Matskevich has a quality which Americans have not in general associated in the past with high-ranking Communist leaders: a sense of humor. It's not the bitter humor of a Vyshinsky but a good deal more gentle.

When he arrived in Detroit to visit the Ford plant, reporters asked him why he had come to their city:

"We're very interested in Japanese cherries," he cracked. "And we came here, of course, to study Japanese cherries."

When news photographers surrounded him at one of the first Iowa farms he visited, he reached down and patted the family dog. A little later he was seen playing with the family baby.

"If that man stays around here long he'll be elected senator," remarked a newspaperman who was following the expedition.

—:—

THE SOVIET leader manages to have a good word for nearly everybody and everything. He has passed out little medals — from the All-Union Agricultural Exposition in Moscow — wherever he has gone.

Vladimir Matskevich was born, according to Soviet publications, in 1909 in the Ukraine.

His first big job seems to have been as the director of one of the biggest agricultural schools in the Ukraine—the Kharkov Agricultural Institute.

In the Soviet farm delegation there is never any doubt when Matskevich is around who is boss.

As things stack up, his future in the Soviet Union is bright. He is a protege of Nikita Khruschchev, an exceedingly important fact.

And he has a particular talent which is needed very badly at this stage of affairs in Russia in all departments of activity but particularly in agriculture. He knows how to persuade people to do what he wants them to do.

Car Hits Train; Driver Unhurt

Police Report 4 Other Minor Accidents Here

Police this morning reported five no injury traffic accidents on Marion Streets, including one car-railroad train collision.

Neither the highway patrol nor the sheriff's office reported any accidents on highways in Marion County.

The auto-train crash occurred at 9:11 p.m. Wednesday at Kenton Ave. and the Erie Railroad crossing. A car driven by Fredrick R. Crowder, 24, of 421 Park St. collided with an Erie freight train on the crossing. Police reported Crowder was southbound on Kenton Ave. while the train was eastbound on the tracks. The car struck a gondola car causing damage to the front end of the car and scraping the paint on the gondola car. Engineer of the train was John L. Sontag of 588 Uncapher Ave. The automobile was removed from the scene by a wrecker.

At 1:55 p.m., cars collided in front of 584 E. Church St. They were driven by James A. Williams, 17, of 953 Congress St. and Harold Holt, 17, of 456 Mound St. Both cars were removed by wrecker.

At 2:16 a.m. today, a northbound automobile struck a parked car in front of 612 N. Main St. Driver of the northbound car was Lester G. Ball, 50, of near Pedro, O. Owner of the parked car is Carl Werley Jr. of 612 N. Main St. The Ball car was removed from the scene by wrecker.

Each of the other two accidents caused damage of less than $100, police estimated.

Quacks Outnumber Physicians In France, Populace Discovers

PARIS (NANA) — France has been staggered by the disclosure that nearly 40,000 quack "healers," more than the total of practicing physicians, are busy dispensing cures.

Some of the quacks—mesmerists, village messiahs and practitioners of occult "medical" arts—are making sizable fortunes, according to the revelations. One man arrested for illegal practice of medicine (he swung his patients like pendulums) was found with more than $30,000 in gold ingots in his home, the proceeds of three months' work.

The report of the "healers" was made by Dr. Jacques Richier, a famous Paris ear, nose and throat specialist. After a national study, Dr. Richier said that three of every four quacks are making large incomes.

In one village, the Paris doctor said, the local "healer" claimed to have treated a million people. Railroads have run special coaches carrying patients anxious to see the "magic" man. A visit with him cost $2.50.

Dr. Richier divided the practitioners into three types:

1. Pseudo-doctors — they are caricatures of doctors. Garbed in white, they receive patients in sumptuously equipped offices. They submit them to tests, using various gadgets. Typical is making the patient hold a pendulum to test the steadiness of his hand.

Their prescriptions are based on common or inactive substances.

They are doing excellent business.

2. Anti-doctors — earning more money, Dr. Richier said, they usually operate in rooms behind cafes. With their shirt - sleeves rolled up, they grip their patients by the shoulders, talk familiarly with them, roughly massage them, and prescribe crude "magnetized" poultices.

Said Dr. Richier: "they work with the quiet consciences of those who never ask themselves questions."

3. Sects—these are the "mystics." Of one sect which called itself the "witnesses of Christ," the report says: "denying the malady as well as the pain, they make their followers forget their ills, but they cannot deny death."

Teachers' Meeting Scheduled Sept. 5 At Pleasant School

The 1955-56 school year in Pleasant School District will officially begin on Monday, Sept. 5, with a faculty meeting at 9:30 a.m. at the school. Classes will start on Tuesday, Sept. 6, with a half-day session.

School buses will run their regular routes on Sept. 6 and school will start at 8:40 a.m., closing at 11:30 a.m. The school cafeteria will not open until the first full day of classes, Wednesday, Sept. 7.

Kindergarten classes will start Wednesday, Sept. 7.

Pre-registration for kindergarten and first grade pupils and all new students at the school will be held Aug. 22 and 29 from 9 a.m. until noon at the school. Kindergarten classes, which are open to children who will be five years old by Dec. 31, 1955, will be conducted at the county children's home. First grade pupils must be six years of age by Dec. 31, 1955.

All new students at the school will be required to have standard immunization shots or a certificate from a physician stating that the immunization requirements have been met.

People whose grandparents were all born in one area are more apt to be nearsighted or farsighted than those whose grandparents were born in communities far distant from each other, says the Better Vision Institute.

May Blind West to Red Treachery

Greeks See Danger in 'Geneva Spirit'

By MICHAEL MANNING

ATHENS (NANA) — Greece is deeply troubled that the western powers will be unduly influenced by the diplomatic uplift of "The Spirit of Geneva."

Probably more than any other nation in the democratic camp, Greece, from experience, discounts the apparent relaxation of East-West Tensions produced at the Big Four conference and the current atoms-for-peace meeting in the Swiss city. Veteran government officials similarly denounce the Soviet Union's announced plan to reduce her armed forces as a familiar communist tactic to camouflage real intentions.

Behind this suspicion lies Greek experience with similar communist tactics in the past. The Greeks bluntly declaim "coexistence" as a hoax. What is needed, they say, is tangible evidence that Moscow does not plan to make war.

THE GREEKS BASE their present skepticism on what happened when the first Communist revolt was quelled in Greece, with the help of British troops, in January 1945. Then Greek royalists and Communists got together at a round-table conference and worked out a Geneva-type disarmament agreement. The Communist guerrilla army would be disbanded and all their arms—40,000 rifles and 2,000 machineguns—would be handed over to the state.

For a year the Greek atmosphere was impregnated with a benign fallacy of national coexistence. Then the Communists struck in 1946, and it took three years of war, much blood and $1,000,000,000 of American money to defeat them.

Only then did the Greek government realize the Reds had concealed at least three times more arms and ammunition than they had surrendered to the state.

GREEK MILITARY strategists are sternly resisting a popular demand for lower defense costs.

In the view of these strategists, Yugoslavia's resumption of friendly relations with Russia and the fact that Turkey is focussing her main interest in the defense of her eastern boundaries, has weakened the Balkan alliance which Greece regarded as a safety valve against a surprise attack from the north.

Marshal Tito's repeated argument that in view of the spirit of Geneva, , Greece and Turkey should forget about the military aspect of the Balkan defense pact and concentrate on economic and cultural relations, is forcing Greece to revise old plans of cutting the size of the army down to a peace-time strength of 75,000 men.

Despite the "Geneva spirit," the Greek leaders are now contemplating an increase from the present ceiling of 105,000 men to the 120,000 which NATO military leaders consider to be the minimum for Greek security.

Gen. Alexandros Merenditis, an outstanding Greek military commentator and former chief of staff, who had in the past led a campaign for the reduction of the size of the Greek army for the sake of economy, anounced suddenly that he had changed his mind.

"I BELIEVE WE should not relax our military effort at present time. Two reasons led me to alter my views. The first is still a military secret and I cannot divulge it.

"The second reason is that the recent shift of emphasis in the Balkan alliance from the field of defense to its more peaceful objectives, has weakened our flanks and might bring us before numerically superior enemy forces in case of war."

To help Greece maintain an army at semiwar footing, the U.S. is already grating the country about $50,000,000 this year as economic and military assistance, over and above the regular supply of war material of an undisclosed value.

In addition, U S. military "installations," comprising an atomic air base, are to be built shortly near Herakleion, on the fortified island of Crete, at a cost of $4,200,000.

Luck, Skill Needed For Hole-in-One

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UP) — Is it skill or just plain luck when a golfer makes a hole-in-one?

Obviously, Illinois Attorney General Latham Castle ruled, trying to make a hole-in-one "depends to a large extent upon what is commonly termed luck or chance."

But "the fact is equally obvious and more persuasive" that "considerable skill" is involved. Castle said.

Therefore, Castle said in a formal opinion that the local Junior Chamber of Commerce could go ahead with its hole-in-one contest without fear of violating gambling laws.

State's Attorney Bernard J. Moran said he agreed in principle, but there were exceptions to this logic.

"When I put the ball close to the hole. I'm afraid the predominant elements are luck and chance," Moran said.

Rainfall reaches as much as 740 inches a year on mountain slopes of the Olympic peninsula in Washington, says the National Geographic Society.

Rev. Wittman Schedules Services at Mt. Vernon

Of interest to friends in Marion is the announcement of Rev. Karl F. Wittman, Toledo evangelist, that he will hold a tent meeting in Mount Vernon beginning Friday night. He conducted a four-week meeting here in June. His location in Mount Vernon will be on S. Main St. near the viaduct and he plans a three-week effort with services nightly at 7:45 and Sundays at 3 p.m. and 7:45. He has held services in this area a number of times in previous years. With him for the new series of services will be Mrs. Wittman and their son, Karl F. Wittman Jr., who plays a number of musical instruments.

It has been estimated that 10 tons of blood must flow through a cow's udder in the production of 50 pounds of milk.

The Eagles Auxiliary made a second donation of $5 to Boys' Village in Smithville during the regular meeting in the Eagles building Monday night. A luncheon was served later in the evening by Mrs. Oscar Tracht and Mrs. Walter Blum.

Plans Prepared for Emergency Camps

Air Force Set To Evacuate Americans Should Need Arise at Moroccan Bases

RABAT, French Morocco (NANA) — The top U.S. Air Force commander in North Africa is ready, at an hour's notice, to establish emergency evacuation camps for American families now living outside of U.S. air bases in troubled French Morocco.

"It would not be plush living, by any means," said Maj. Gen. Frederick E. Glantzberg. "But in case of another flap, we're ready. We can open up Dallas huts, even set up tents if we have to, to provide emergency shelter for every American in Morocco—and do it overnight."

—:—

"FLAP" IS AIR FORCE jargon for any sort of excitement, commotion, or trouble. Glantzberg said the current "flap," meaning the wave of Moroccan nationalist riots which claimed more than 100 lives last month, has actually had little effect on American military and civilian personnel.

There are an estimated 20,000 Americans living in Morocco, including some 8,000 airmen and Air Force civilian employes, and their more than 7,000 dependents, wives and children.

A large percentage of them necessarily live away from the bases. But so far, according to the 17th Air Force commander, there has not been a single incident involving an American.

Emergency orders were issued when the first riots broke in mid-July, instructing Americans living in Casablanca to stay in their quarters as much as possible, to avoid crowds, and to travel only to and from the air bases where they were employed.

Servicemen were further forbidden to visit the medinas—the native quarters—of Casablanca, Rabat, Fedala and other towns where terrorism and riots had made it unsafe even for Moroccans.

A dusk-to-dawn Air Police patrol was ordered to enforce rigorously the French curfew imposed when martial law was declared in Casablanca on July 16.

A YEAR AGO, during riots which marked the annual Moslem religious holiday period of Ramadan, 40 U.S. Air Force families at Port Lyautey were evacuated to emergency quarters on the air base there. Another 40 families were taken aboard U.S. naval vessels in the harbor.

"We're hoping it won't be necessary this time," Glantzberg said in an interview at his headquarters. "And, honestly, I don't think it will become necessary. To tell the truth, I think that people tend to get much too excited about these things.

"The fact is," the general added, with a grin, "that if a real emergency should come along, I'd be out of business."

The explanation of the general's not-quite-serious remark lies in the fact that 17th Air Force headquarters, although it is the nerve center of an operational air arm extending over two continents and nearly a dozen Mediterranean and Near Eastern countries, is almost unguarded.

The American air bases in Morocco—at Nouasseur, Ben Guerir, Sidi Slimane, Boulhout—are actually French property, and it is the French who are responsible for the security.

As it happens, the French have not assigned a security force to Glantzberg's headquarters, which is guarded by a mere handful of Air Force police.

The circumstance does not, however, really worry Glantzberg, a rugged, sandy-haired man who keeps his anxieties, if any, well below the surface.

Nor does the continuing Moroccan crisis apparently worry many of the Americans now living off-base.

SO FAR, NOT A single family has taken advantage of the standing offer of emergency shelter, although quarters could be provided, in crude Dallas huts and in wheelless house trailers, for anyone who really wanted it.

The trailers are an Air Force anomaly that requires some explanation.

The air bases in Morocco are relatively new. Some are not yet, even from the operational point of view, quite out of the construction stage. Permanent housing for personnel is not even on blueprints. As for adequate temporary housing, the plans are ready, but the necessary funds simply have not been forthcoming.

To expedite the temporary housing program, the Air Force decided that house trailers would be just the thing.

Wheels were thought unnecessary, however, since the trailers were intended as stationary housing rather than as rolling stock. So the trailers were ordered without wheels—2,689 of them in all—for air bases in France and Morocco.

The 41-foot trailers, complete with kitchen and sanitary facilities and sleeping space for five, are being built by private industry in Belgium and Italy, at a cost to the Air Force of $2,800 apiece.

The initial shipment of 71 trailers has arrived at Nouasseur, headquarters of the Air Force's Southern Air Material Area.

They remain in storage at the base. The reason: no funds with which to build the projected trailer parks which will eventually be "home" to thousands of Americans now living in Casablanca, Rabat, and elsewhere off-base.

THE ESTIMATED cost of trailer parks with adequate lighting, plumbing and other facilities comes to about $150,000 per base. The required appropriations have yet to be approved.

Meanwhile, the huge task force of airmen and civilian employes, stationed at the bases are living as best they may, in cities considered unsafe even by the natives.

Most of the men—and women—working at Nouasseur commute daily from Casablanca, 20 miles away. At Rabat, Glantzberg disclosed, the Air Force has leased an entire hotel to quarter 40 bachelor airmen. The cost: $40,000 a year.

Aside from the housing problem, life is not too bad for the U.S. Air Force in Morocco.

There is a big swimming pool at Nouasseur, a skeet range, a seven hole golf course, a riding stable, a hobby shop, classrooms where academically inclined airmen can take extension courses from the University of Maryland, or brush up on their French.

A new, 1,000-seat theatre is under construction at Nouasseur. Meantime, the Air Force takes over a movie house in Casablanca three times a week to show American movies.

Airmen are urged to use the recreational facilities provided for them on the bases, and to keep away from potential trouble spots in strange and politically unstable cities where anything can happen.

Tension has decreased somewhat in Morocco, following weeks of riots and disorder. But Americans here fear that it may be simply the ominous lull before another storm.

Science reports that cats hear a lot more than people do. And, if they're like their human counterparts, repeat a lot more than they actually hear.

Times Have Changed

New Standards Needed To Judge Debt Dangers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Much of the worry today about the growing habit of living off the cuff may rise from judging present customs by pre-war standards.

Third of a Series

There's a new generation to whom the monthly payment is a fixed feature. When one series of payments is finished, a new one is begun.

As a result, totals of consumer credit and of home mortgages are at all time highs. Most bankers feel they are going to stay that way—and without necessarily hurting the economy at all.

FOR ONE thing, times have changed. The standard of living is much higher. Many monthly payments now merely replace other items in the old-fashioned budget. For example, where their parents paid out a weekly sum to the servants, today's young folk put up payments on the many household appliances that have taken the vanishing servants' places.

And finally, there has been the remarkable upgrading of incomes in recent years, especially in the lower and middle income brackets where so much of today's installment credit is concentrated. Most bankers contend that more persons than ever have incomes large enough to back the debt they have taken on, so that only a small minority are in financial hot water.

Just about everything from automobiles to stocks can be bought on time these days. Open-end mortgages enable a family to stay in debt practically forever, as the mortgage is reduced by payments, it can be enlarged to its former size to cover the building or more rooms or modernization.

BUT BETWEEN 7 and 10 million families in this country are reported to be strictly cash buyers who refuse on principle to buy on credit. And more than half of the nation's families are free of installment debt, although some may still owe on their homes.

Of the 43 per cent of families repaying installment loans, almost three-fourths report payments are less than one fifth of their incomes after taxes.

"People are paying off their debts as fast as new debt is being contracted," says Arthur O. Dietz, president of C I T. Financial Corp.

Mass production without mass sales would be impossible, and mass sales without mass credit would be a similar improbability," says Theodore H. Silbert, president of Standard Factors Corp.

The National Assn. of Credit Men, through its executive vice president, Henry H. Heimann, says sound use of credit is one of the greatest factors in the promotion of business but "when the complete emphasis is upon the ease with which you can get things, with little or no down payments and much too long a period of time in which to liquidate the debt, such programs just automatically build a topheavy credit structure."

So far, however, the American consumer has shown great aptitude in handling his time-payment way of life — and the American economy has boomed as a result.

Steers Gain in Weight When Eating Stilbestrol

CHICAGO (UP)—Steers fed on stilbestrol, a female hormone, gain more weight at less cost without ill effects, according to Ralph McCall, beef cattle research expert.

Tests showed that one lot of steers fed stilbestrol gained an average of 2.83 pounds per day as compared with 2.35 pounds per day gained by another lot that didn't receive the hormone.

Feed cost per hundred-weight gain for the stilbestrol-fed lot was $22.34, while feed cost of the other lot was $24 25 per hundred-weight gain. McCall said.

Thruway in New York Gets Directional Signs

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—By summer's end, New York State's Thruway will be dotted with some 81 signs directing travellers to spots of interest and vacation areas off the main road.

The authority disclosed it has received $62,805 for erecting the signs in 18 counties. The signs will be carrying the names of 47 communities, two major connecting highways, and seven sites such as bridges, airports and lakes.

The authority said that, safety was the primary factor in erection of the signs. They must be easily legible, kept to a minimum of wordage so the motorist will not have to slow down to read them.

Nationwide, the sales of the Bonds exceeded their redemption by $350 million, for the first seven months of the year, White added.

Chef's Salad Is Favorite for Luncheon

Delicacy Includes Ham, Swiss Cheese, Eggs, Variety of Greens

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Chef's salad! From what we see being ordered in restaurants, we'd say this salad is a favorite main course for lunch. Why, then, don't more cooks serve it at home

There isn't anything the least bit hard about putting a good Chef's Salad together. You do, however, have to have a fairly large number of ingredients at hand: cooked ham, Swiss cheese, cooked chicken, a variety of greens, hard-cooked eggs. So plan to make this salad when you have leftovers of chicken and ham. Or follow a plan we use: buy boiled ham from your food market and steam a chicken breast quickly in a skillet.

Our Chef's Salad uses both mayonnaise and French dressing. The latter is made with a prepared mix of herbs and spices; you add your own wine vinegar, olive oil and water to it.

CHEF'S SALAD. A favorite in restaurants, it is easy to prepare at home.

CHEF'S SALAD

Ingredients: 1 package old-fashioned French salad dressing mix, wine vinegar, water, olive oil, ½ cup thin short strips cooked ham, ½ cup thin short strips Swiss cheese, ½ cup thin short strips white meat of chicken, 1 medium-sized head romaine (cut in 1-inch pieces), ¼ of a medium sized head lettuce (cut in 1-inch pieces), ¼ bunch water cress (heavy stems cut off and separated into small sprigs), ½ bunch chicory (cut in 1-inch pieces), 2 cups shredded cabbage, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 2 hard-cooked eggs, (sliced), 2 tablespoons minced chives.

Method: Combine salad dressing mix, wine vinegar, water and olive oil as directed on package. Chill ham, cheese and chicken. Place greens in large salad bowl; add 1 cup of the French dressing and the mayonnaise; toss together lightly. Arrange meats and cheese on top in alternate sections radiating from center. Garnish with egg slices and chives. Makes about 2½ quarts, or 4 to 6 servings.

OTHER SALADS

Don't serve the same old salad all the time! Here are some combinations that eaters usually like.

1. Strips of cooked smoked tongue and cheddar cheese with shredded green cabdage and diced pimiento. Toss with French dressing.

2. Water cress sprigs, thin slices of cucumber and crumbled crisply cooked bacon. Toss with French dressing.

3. Diced cooked potatoes and diced cooked chicken with cooked green peas or snap beans. Marinate with French dressing, then add mayonnaise and serve on salad greens.

4. Young tender leaves of fresh green spinach with crumbled crisply cooked bacon and French dressing. Top with crisp croutons.

5. Salad greens tossed with bits of anchovy fillets, slices of pimiento - stuffed olives, French dressing and grated Parmesan cheese

6. Thin celery crescents with seafood — cooked shrimp, crab meat or lobster—and butter-toasted walnuts may be mixed with well - seasoned mayonnaise and served on any leafy green.

Safety Experts Advise Talking on Long Trips

DETROIT (UP)—Motorists who take long trips by themselves would be smart if they talked to themselves.

Safety experts say that talking to yourself when on a long trip is the best way to relieve the fatigue and boredom that often cause traffic accidents. New turnpikes and expressways make monotony an ever-increasing highway problem.

Other ways to combat boredom is to drive with the radio blaring, vary the driving speed, stop frequently to eat, and make plenty of stops to stretch muscles.

Requirements Set For School Board

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP) — A Harvard sociologist says the ideal school board member is a person who can act quickly and inexpensively, especially on matters he doesn't known anything about.

Neal Gross, head of the Harvard school of executive studies, told a University of Michigan conference that school board members should have the following qualifications:

1. A heart of gold, a mind of steel, and a nervous system of elastic.

2. A built-in telephone holder over his left shoulder and a built-in tear-absorbent on his right.

3. An uncanny ability to make astute and penetrating policy decisions about which he has no knowledge.

4 Be a person who loves to be hooked by gobbledly-gook or educational jargon.

5. Be able to explain lucidly to parents that a straight line for the school bus is not necessarily from door to door.

6. Be able to buy aspirin at a 50 per cent discount.

7. Know how to increase teacher salaries and build new school buildings while lowering the tax rate.

8. Be a King Solomon who can negotiate between the horse-and-buggy and space-ship types of education without splitting the personality of the child.

Bridge Game Unaffected While Building Blazes

RACINE, Wis. (UP) — Bridge players are well known for the ability to concentrate on their game, but Racine's Duplicate Bridge Club carried the thing to an extreme recently.

The members were playing at the Elks Club when the building caught fire. Firemen rushed in with extinguishers as smoke poured from a washroom, but the bridge games in progress continued without interruption.

Amazed firemen reported that a few of the players glanced up briefly when the firemen trooped in, but no one left his seat.

U.S. Soldiers Being Cheated By Phony Car Dealers in Japan

TOKYO (NANA) — American servicemen are being cheated by phony Japanese car dealers. The situation has become so bad that the Army has started a warning campaign. A special announcement in the Pacific Stars and Stripes is headed "be careful when you buy or sell an auto in Japan."

The English - language Nippon Times reports that more than 100 military personnel have been victimized. The paper says that the "foreign car swindle is now feared by the metropolitan police department to have become a recognized racket."

Many Cases Unreported

Many cases go unreported because the Americans involved themselves did something illegal in the transaction. They may have paid the Japanese in dollars when only yen may be given to a Japanese.

One outfit—with nothing more than a name—absconded with $24,000 from 14 Americans. Several other Japanese cheated groups of gullible servicemen out of sums varying between $6,000 and $10,000.

These swindlers allege to represent stateside auto distributors. They use namecards of recognized Japanese automobile companies. They usually approach American officers and enlisted men in parking lots, present their cards and make some very generous proposition. They either offer to pay much more than the serviceman's car is worth or to sell a new car for stateside delivery at a discount.

Several officers have returned to the United States, tried to pick up their cars, only to be told that the Japanese "salesman" is completely unknown to the American distributor.

Some have been able to recoup part of their losses. Many more are in the U.S. and unable to take legal action. Although the Japanese police are concerned they are not taking any legal action. They argue that all these cases are civil cases not criminal incidents.

Besides admonishing officers and men to be more careful, the Army furnishes a listing of reputable, authorized Japanese dealers with whom it is recommended the GI do business.

New Regulations

The Army has also issued new regulations which make it less profitable and more difficult for a serviceman to sell his car in Japan. Before he can sell his car to a Japanese, the GI must have owned it for one year, it must be two model years old and you can only sell one car every three years.

Several years ago military personnel could sell their cars every six months and later that provision has raised to every 12 months. In those days Japanese dealers paid a high premium for cars and quite a few servicemen sold several cars during their tour of duty here. Frequently a used car brought a bigger price in Tokyo than it cost new in the U.S.

Firms Find 'Need Concept' Is Key to Workers' Adjustment

NEW YORK (NANA) — Idustry, which customarily puts its emphasis of building bigger, more efficient plants, is trying to understand the men who work in them.

The system being adopted at many firms these days revolves around a principle psychologists call the "need concept." This holds that a clerical worker, machinist or tool maker responds not only to basic needs such as food, clothing and shelter, but to mental needs as security, attention and status.

Consider the case of a plant worker who likes being a showoff on the job, even to the extent of wearing on occasion a coonskin cap. Such attention-getting habits, of course, rile both this man's associates and his superviser.

His Need for Recognition

At many plants trying out now the "need concept," members of management will conclude this man has a stronger-than-average need for recognition from his fellow employes. The coonskin cap addict, the executives will agree, should be assigned to a demanding, special job, then praised publicly as he completes each part of it successfully. It is expected, as a result, that the man will calm down and stop "sounding off."

Or, take a look at a factory worker who disappears continuously from a storage room where he is assigned. An ideal solution is to transfer this wanderer to an assembly line operation where he can be in close contact with other employes.

In Buffalo, N.Y., a hard-headed, practical Remington Rand supervisor asserts: "once you recognize and evaluate the intensity of the spychological needs of each individual employe you can take positive steps right on the job to satisfy those needs."

At many big firms, among these being General Electric, General Motors and Du Pont, personnel experts and psychologists have come up with smooth techniques to make supervisers conscious of workers' troubles.

Periodic Confabs

A popular method calls for periodic get-togethers of the supervisers, customarily run by the company's training director.

The confabs usually begin with the director reciting several case histories from his own files, or perhaps running off a special training movie. The idea is to loosen up the conference, encourage supervisers to discuss their special problems.

One strategy often used at such meetings is "role playing." One person will act out the role of superviser while another will take the part of the "problem" worker. When the playlet is finished, the two persons reverse their roles and go at it again. Afterward, all present at the meeting take turns at telling how they would have handled the matter.

A rarer method for easing difficulties is called "the consulting program." Foremen and other supervisors at plants using this system take courses on counseling from the plant training director. They're taught how to interview people, how to pose questions, how to listen, as well as other secrets of the psychologist's trade.

Chicago Contractor Has Special Horse Hospital

CHICAGO (UP) — Joe Prince makes a living building homes, but he spends much of his time on another project, a hospital for horses.

Prince and his late partner, Stanley Bartecki, who owned and raced horses, had planned the horse hospital together. After Bartecki died, Prince went ahead alone.

First, he purchased a run-down 60-acre cattle farm on the southwest side of Chicago. Then he began refurbishing, painting, rebuilding. Now he has facilities for 100 horses of all types.

These facilities include a $25,000 hydraulic operating table, an X-ray machine for therapy, padded recovery stalls for injured horses and numerous other aids.

"We have a veterinarian here all the time," he said, "but any vet can come in and work. We make all facilities available to him."

NEW WURLITZER
Electronic Piano
NOW AT SHELLHORN'S
A new concept in piano design and tone. It is a portable electronic piano. The 64-note key and action mechanism is similar to that used in a conventional piano, but it has neither strings nor sounding board. The tone is produced mechanically and amplified electronically. Just plug the extension cord into any 110 volt. AC outlet . . . and it's ready to play!
The new instrument weighs approximately 70 pounds and is built into a durable, pebble-finished carrying case.
And here's another novel and remarkable feature that will suggest many educational uses . . . it can be played with earphones! When the earphones are plugged into the unit, the keyboard becomes silent and only the performer can hear it. He can play or practice for hours, any time of the day or night, without disturbing others in the house. Yet, when the earphones are removed, the instrument again becomes a full-toned piano.

Veteran Deputy Will Hang Up Shooting Irons

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — E. E. Clark, 71-year-old Nebraska state deputy sheriff, has put aside his shooting irons after 48 years of chasing law breakers.

Clark, North Platte, Neb., is a colorful holdover from the days of the Old West. He has chased thieves and cattle rustlers on horseback, by automobile and even airplane.

"I'd do it all over again exactly the same way if I had the chance," he said.

First named a deputy sheriff in 1920, Clark has a wide background of law enforcement work.

"I can't remember when I didn't carry a gun and I don't remember when I got my first pair of boots," he said.

While just "a little shaver," Clark said he recalls sitting around campfires listening to ranch hands brag how they had killed a sheriff or committed some other crime.

"When I heard killers talking," Clark said, "I thought to myself, by golly, someday I'm going to grow up and be a sheriff and get you."

Clark said he saw two men killed in gun fights before he was 15 years old.

Clark was assistant chief cattle investigator for the Nebraska brand committee when he retired. He said modern life did not greatly reduce cattle rustling.

"Stealing was so bad there for a while," he explained, "that ranchers couldn't get a loan on their cattle."

Photographic Door

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Carpenter Mack Burdine removed a door facing while remodeling a building at Southern State College—and found himself staring at a picture of his brother, John, showing him in a 1917 soldier's uniform.

John recalled giving the picture to a girl at Southern State—then Magnolia A & M—nearly 40 years ago when the building was a girls' dormitory. But neither one could figure how the photo got in the door.

No Change in Agriculture

Hasty and broad conclusions about the Soviet Union's farm problems are not warranted by even the belated official discussion in the Communist - controlled press.

But one conclusion has been warranted from the beginning of the historic Russian experiment in political absolutism: Whatever success the experiment might produce in Russian industry would not be duplicated in Russian agriculture.

The mechanistic philosophy of the Marxists simply could not be applied to an operation influenced by the indeterminate forces of nature and human disposition. There is nothing mechanistic, for example, about the care and feeding of livestock, which the Communist press concedes to have been one of the areas of serious failure.

Nor is there anything mechanistic about the instinct of a good farmer to stay out ahead of the tasks that involve a gamble with the weather. There is not a farmer in the world who does not understand what Pravda means when it says, "Harvesting is going ahead in exceedingly unsatisfactory manner." There always have been farmers who could not do their harvesting for putting it off, until finally they ran out of time.

Malenkov stumbled over agriculture, as Stalin had stumbled before him. Bulganin is stumbling, and Khrushchev is trying to hold him up. Although food shortages in Russia are not new and certainly were not invented by the Communists, they are not being alleviated by the Communists, whose absolutism purports to be able to cure everything.

It will not cure the problems that grow out of human disinclination to fill the mouths of those who have nothing to give in return but words. That was the downfall of the early experiments in communal living in the United States, the only place where pure communism ever was given a trial. It apparently is catching up to the experiment in modified communism in the Soviet Union.

Caution: Women Working

The irony in the eye-popping statistics about women in the country's working force is the way they are interpreted.

The statistics do not mean, however, that women now are beginning to work for the first time. They mean that more women now are working for wages outside their homes than ever worked before — more than 20 million of the 65 million persons now employed in the United States.

Women are able to hold down nearly a third of the paid jobs in the United States today because time and labor-saving appliances have freed them from some of the drudgery of housework. The same appliances have made it possible for women who remain in their homes to do more work than they were able to do formerly, the same way that fewer farmers now produce more farm commodities, thanks to machinery.

Fifteen years ago, at the beginning of the war boom, about 1 million women were employed; there has been an increase of more than 80 per cent since 1940 in female employment. The increase for men, however, has been only 32 per cent, slightly more than the net increase in the population total.

This is the most significant trend in these latter days of the industrial revolution—more important by far than automation, which will be just one more means of opening to women jobs that formerly could have been performed only by men.

Some day the signs will have to read: Women Working.

Low-Compression Nightmare

E. Z. Payments, the all-American automobile consumer, had just finished reading about the newest of the new dream cars that will be dangled in front of the public at the forthcoming showings of 1956 models and gone to sleep.

He conjured up his own dream car. It had a trick transmission called a planetary, something sensational and new. Its interior was reminiful of interstellar space. A passenger could get in there with a head the size of a basketball and maneuver like a space ship without being bumped off.

It had steps on it, to get in and out—a revolutionary idea. When it was revved up, it vibrated like an Honest John climbing into the blue. The price was cheap and maintenance could be handled by any handy man in his driveway with a set of wrenches and some wiping cloths. The upholstering material was washable. The whole effect as ultra-sporty, with a top that could be put up in case it rained.

Someone kept croaking that the thing wouldn't work and he had better buy a horse, but E. Z. Payments was pretty sure of himself. He figured he had something big. He had the first Model-T Ford roadster — the one you could have in your choice of colors as long as you preferred black. It was a dream car. It still is, all contenders to the contrary notwithstanding, including the new ones still to come.

Cold War Unabated

By David Lawrence

'Peaceful Demonstration' New Propaganda Device

There's a new propaganda device being introduced in the cold war. It's called "peaceful demonstration." It has cropped up in India and in South Korea — and, of course, there's bloodshed in each case.

Lawrence

India's Nehru, who is always championing the cause of "peaceful coexistence," sanctioned a "peaceful demonstration" by a mob from the territory of India which tried to cross over into the little Portuguese colony of Goa, on the Indian coast.

When the Portuguese frontier guards fired back to stop the invasion which was deliberately planned for publicity and propaganda purposes, India's premier made a speech of denunciation. As a consequence, India's mobs were inflamed and they paraded into the streets of Bombay and elsewhere demonstrating against Portuguese consulates.

Goa is a tiny territory which has been Portuguese for 400 years. Its representatives are a part of the Portuguese Parliament. It has a Portuguese culture. It no more belongs to India than Hong Kong belongs to China or Bermuda to the United States.

THE CONTROVERSY over Goa has been inspired by the Communists, as they know it will tend to strain relations between the United States and India and between Britain and India. That's because the London government has an alliance with Portugal and because the United States needs the Azores for air base and is about to negotiate a new agreement with Portugal.

All the double talk that has been coming from New Delhi about desiring peace in the world has been revealed to be insincere. When it suits Nehru to begin an aggression of his own, he does not hesitate to do so.

The world of left wingers will, of course, condemn Portugal and applaud Nehru and argue that it is colonialism which is being uprooted.

The real purpose of the "peaceful demonstrations" against Goa is to force the issue into the United Nations in the hope that the United States and Britain will be embarrassed and will refrain from participation as some scheme is devised to let India grab the territory of Goa.

AS FOR KOREA, the "peaceful demonstrations" there have consisted of riots in protest against the presence of Polish and Czech members of the so-called Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission appointed to carry out the terms of the Panmunjom armistice.

It looked for a while as if these pro-Communist members of the commission would be forced out bodily from South Korea but the U.S. military stepped in to prevent it.

Maybe President Rhee knew that would be the result, but maybe also he saw the value of a little publicity throughout the world on the true situation with respect to the Polish and Czech members of the commission.

For, while this commission is permitted to go anywhere in South Korea, the Swedish and Swiss representatives are not allowed to inspect where they please in North Korea. A military buildup in North Korea has been going on ever since the armistice.

The agreement to end hostilities has been ignored and violated by the Communists to such an extent that the Swedish and Swiss members want to resign. Secretary Dulles also thinks it is futile for the commission to try to operate any more.

THE RED CHINESE say they want to negotiate for the unification of Korea but in Geneva a year ago they spurned the United Nations and still do. President Rhee is willing to negotiate openly with the North Koreans after the Chinese Red army is withdrawn and the North Korean army is demobilized.

The position of the United States in all this is anomalous. The Washington government is committed to the support of a United Nations plan for supervision of any solution. Dulles sees no signs of any progress toward unification and reiterates that America will not use force to unify Korea. This is a doctrine proclaimed on June 6, 1953, in a letter to President Rhee from President Eisenhower.

The South Korean chieftain, of course, has known for a long time that the prevailing doctrine is to "renounce the use of force."

EVERYBODY SEEMS to be willing nowadays to forego any big war or even a medium-sized war. So the new wrinkle is to try "peaceful demonstration." This is merely a means of killing just a few people to earn some headlines.

All that Syngman Rhee wants is that the Communists get off his land and give him back the part of his territory they were unjustly granted at Panmunjom. That's why he, too, puts on a few "peaceful demonstrations." Doubtless he will be denounced by the "neutralists" and "left wing" spokesmen as a disturber of the peace. Yet the chief "neutralist" in New Delhi will continue his coercive economic campaign against Goa and will undoubtedly call it all a "peaceful excursion" with "nonviolence."

The right name for the massing of Indians who crossed the frontier is aggression and invasion and it has been and will continue to be provocative of bloodshed. Despite the inspirational meeting at Geneva, the cold war goes on.

Better Way To Live

By TRUMAN TWILL

I am with Dwight David Eisenhower on his Denver vacation trip —in spirit.

It is a spirit that rebels in three dimensions, high fidelity and doubled in spades against the tomfoolery of expecting a human being to knit up his "ravel'd sleeve of care" with photographers, reporters, hangers - on and apple-polishing politicians breathing down his neck.

It evades me completely why in a country that can invent Cellophane it isn't possible to give the president of the United States the luxury of a privacy when he wants to be alone and needs to be alone.

With due respect to the press of official business, I am unable to believe it is so pressing the gawking goons who are always shown in the background of photographs of presidents need to be there or serve any useful purpose by being there.

I protest, as one who has fooled around with fish lines and golf clubs, that it is cruel, inhumane and sadistic to breathe down the neck of any man trying to hit a pesky little ball with an awkward implement or keep from tangling a fish line with a backlash.

The risk in all this is that D. D. Eisenhower, who is essentially a cheerful and composed man with extraordinary patience and good humor, will sit down on the edge of the presidential bed some night to pull off his socks and say to his ever-loving roommate:

"Mamie, I've had it. I have learned to take everything about this job but the goons who always follow me around like little chickens following a mother hen.

"I can put up with the politicians I have to keep greased and soaped so they won't scuttle the country to get even with me. I can put up with people I'd set the dog on if we were living at Gettysburg... ah, Gettysburg!

"I have become accustomed to looking for the gimmick in the loaded questions, being quoted out of context, having my words distorted and my mind read by malicious opponents...

"Smiling for the photographers when I don't feel like smiling, remembering that I am public property, like the Declaration of Independence, and must be guarded twenty - four hours a day, living like a zoo exhibit...

"Remembering not to say anything without remembering first it will be rammed down my throat if it can be misinterpreted, having my clothes and your clothes discussed as if the fate of the world depended on them...

"But right here and now, Mrs. Eisenhower, your old man is telling you he is fed to the teeth with a job that won't even let a man go on a vacation without being the central figure in a D. W. Griffith spectacular. I would do anything within my power to have the privilege of crawling under a bush and getting lost. I am sick to death of the human race.

"All the devilry those European and Asiatic barbarians have thought up in the last twenty years cannot match the devilry thought up here in the good old United States to make a nightmare of the presidency. It isn't the work that drags you down; it's the mob scene

"And I am convinced, furthermore, that nothing can be done about it. Either you grin and bear it, or when you can't grin any more you get out and go home. That is why I say I've had it. I am not amused when people breathe down my neck while I am catching fish or trying for par. There must be a better way to live than that!"

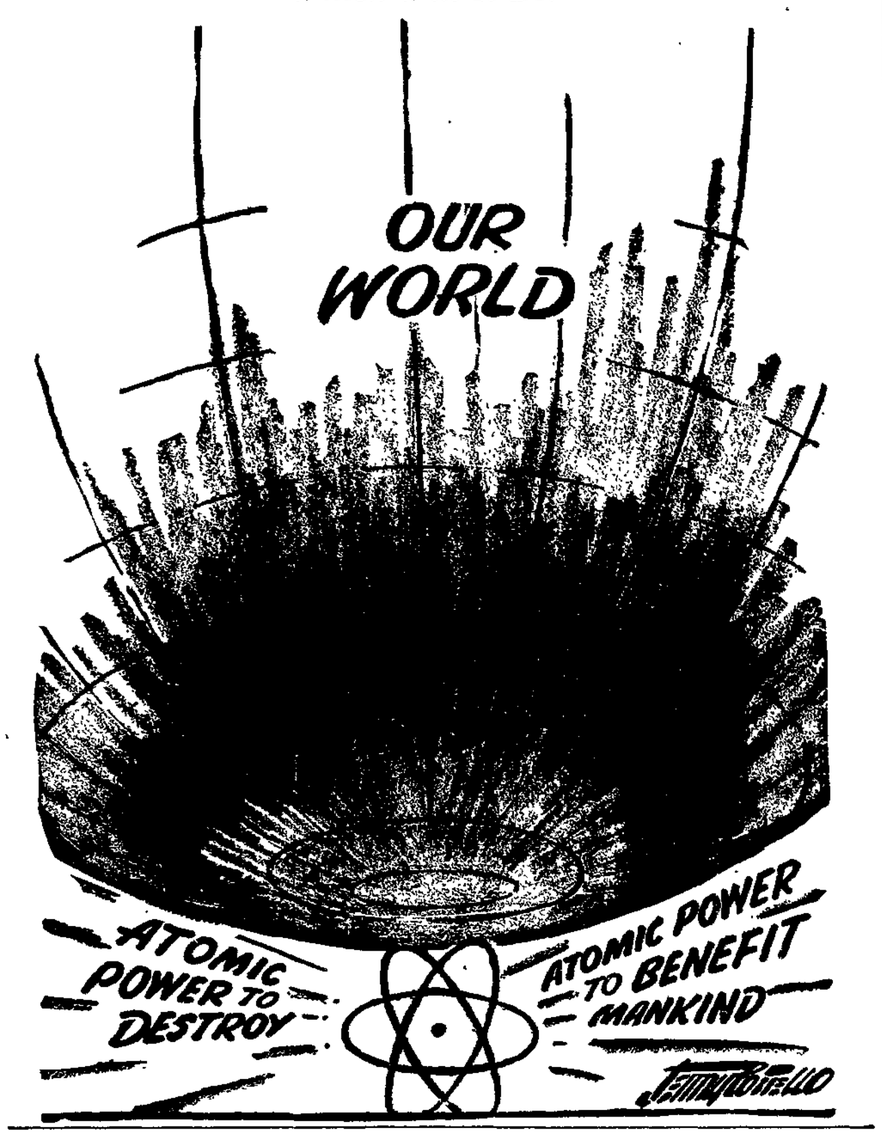
Which Will It Be?



Labor's Secretary Mitchell

By James Y. Newton

WASHINGTON

Big, blunt and Irish James P. Mitchell has the opportunity of being the first real secretary of labor in the memory of seasoned observers of the Washington scene. And, from most reports, he is making good use of the opportunity.

In a little less than two years as labor secretary, Mitchell has chalked up two major accomplishments, goals which eluded his predecessors.

1. He has become the undisputed adviser to the President on matters of government labor policy, and the spokesman for all federal labor agencies in Eisenhower's inner councils.

2. He has welded a disjointed collection of bureaus that was the Labor Department into a cohesive unit which has assumed direction that heretofore did not exist.

It is as a result of accomplishment number one that Mitchell may be described as the first real secretary of labor in a long time.

The first Eisenhower secretary of labor, Martin P. Durkin, president of the AFL plumbers' union, quarreled with the President and quit before he had time to find out much about the job.

GOING BACK to pre-Eisenhower times, the people who served Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, due to circumstances largely beyond their control, were secretaries in little more than name.

President Roosevelt fancied himself as his own secretary of labor. His office door was ever open to union leaders, and, in those days, and during the Truman administration, too, it is probable that more labor problems were settled at the White House than were resolved at the Labor Department.

By the time President Truman took over at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. it was a well-established "rule" that labor problems were to be handled at the White House.

Since he was not so conversant with labor affairs as was Roosevelt, President Truman hired Dr. John R. Steelman, former federal mediation chief, to handle the job for him. It was by no means Dr. Steelman's only responsibility as assistant to the president, but he did conduct high - level labor negotiations in his White House office. He, also, rather than the secretary of labor, selected the personnel to man the various federal labor posts.

MITCHELL HAD a "power" struggle when he took over as labor secretary, but it was not with President Eisenhower or one of his White House aides. Eisenhower has given him a free rein.

The present incumbent had been in office only a short time when union leaders, notably AFL President George Meany, complained bitterly that the Labor Department had become no more than "a bureau of the Commerce Department."

Meany went on to charge that the conservative employer viewpoint of Secretary Weeks was making itself felt more and more on Eisenhower administration labor policies. Weeks' position was that Commerce should have an equal voice in establishing labor policy, since his department represented employes who obviously have a stake in such policy.

Mitchell went to work, quietly at first, to recapture control of the situation. Then, in November 1953, he shocked Weeks and his Commerce stalwarts by telling the CIO convention he would lead an administration effort to raise the statutory minimum wage and broaden the coverage of the wage-hour law.

COMMERCE FORCES were able to ward off this program in 1954. But finally, with the recent passage by Congress of an amendment boosting the minimum wage to $1, Mitchell won a partial victory. However, he made no effort to conceal his disappointment that Congress had not seen fit to extend coverage of the wage-hour law to millions of workers now exempt.

The burly labor secretary won a major victory late last year when he headed off a move by Weeks to have the administration ask Congress to extend federal antitrust laws to cover union activities. Mitchell, however, has said little about this or any other differences he may have had with the commerce secretary.

Although Eisenhower makes the final decision, Mitchell also recommends appointments to top positions in the independent labor agencies.

The labor secretary also advises the President of developments in major strikes and other matters concerning labor.

Mitchell is an ardent advocate of trade unionism and promotes the interests of unions at every opportunity. For example, he is an outspoken opponent of state so-called "right - to - work" laws which prohibit the union shop and place other restrictions on the activities of labor unions.

Mitchell holds that is the legal duty of his department to foster and promote the welfare of all wage earners, whether or not they belong to unions.

WHILE MITCHELL gets along well with most union officials "at the working level," he has had differences with some top union leaders. Some of these still regard him as part of the "Eisenhower team" of businessmen.

Mitchell has reorganized the Labor Department from the top down, and he has done it with a minimum of new personnel. His department has had fewer personnel changes than any other.

His first big step was to bring in as undersecretary the very capable Arthur Larson, dean of the Pittsburgh University law school. Larson became a sort of department general manager. Mitchell delegated to him all of the administrative activities.

Committees made up of representatives of the various bureaus in the department were established to channel bureau work into one stream.

"We now use everything we've got in developing a specific program, instead of letting each bureau go off on its own," Larson says.

As examples, experts from the Women's Bureau and Bureau of Labor Statistics worked with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in studying the causes and possible cures of the shortage of nurses; the minimum wage program was developed by three bureaus working together.

Mitchell recently got money from Congress to try to solve two problems which have been of increased concern to him.

One is helping workers over 45 get jobs — to combat "the growing prejudice against hiring older people."

"Our program is designed to bring home to industry," Mitchell says, "these facts; that older workers are more dependable, just as fast and will perform with a lower absentee rate than younger workers."

The other new program has to do with an acute shortage of skilled workers, both in general industry and the military. There are not nearly enough electronic maintenance people and technicians to meet demands. The department, among other things, will work with industry to promote expanding training programs.

Winds and Elections

Hurricanes are getting too frequent and will play a part in the next election. The Democrats are reported already trying to pin the blame for big winds on the Republicans, pointing out that there was only one big blow under Roosevelt and Truman, and charging that Ike has given the "go" sign to tropical disturbances northward bound.

There are even hints that big business elements in the administration are responsible, some of them being interested in the ship repair, waterfront replacement and shore cottage reconstruction industries. (We hear that Congressman Celler of New York has demanded all weather bureau files to see if any deals were made with "Connie" or "Diane" this year or with "Carol," "Edna" and "Hazel" last season.).

POSSIBLE SLOGANS for 1956: "Back to the Democrats and Undamaged Awnings!" . . . "Drive the Hurricane Alert-Sounders Out!" . . . "A Vote for Stevenson Is a Vote for Normal High Tides." . . . "Down With the GOP and Flooded Seaboards!" . . . "Keep Your Roof Aerials Upright With Adlai!" . . . "Vote for Averell and Light Variable Breezes!" . . . "Make America Safe for Waterfront Property Owners."

A prominent Democrat today predicted Ike would lose the female vote in 1956 because of the practice of naming disastrous storms after women. "It's a blow at American womanhood!" he declared, throwing over an extra anchor to starboard. "No girl is safe from being tied into a major weather disturbance. You don't see Ike naming any hurricanes after businessmen or industrialists, do you? You notice that every effort to have a hurricane named 'Dixon' has been defeated."

"HURRICANE MOVES WEDDING Up a Day Ahead." — News Item. . . . The idea was to avoid "Do you take this man for better or for wind damage?" The bride, we assume, properly alerted, wore 100 feet of mooring line and looked charming considering the weather reports. . . . The groom was dragging his anchor, but refused offers of assistance from the Coast Guard. . . . The bride's father gave her away by radio-phone as he was unable to make headway against a headwind. . . . Mendelssohn was reported on a reef and "Here Comes the Bride" was played hurriedly because of the increasing alert signals.

Marilyn Monroe is reported going to Russia in a cultural exchange. . . . But can Moscow subway gratings and Manhattan subway gratings co-exist? The Soviets continue to get the best of it: they send us bald-headed farm experts and we send them curvaceous blondes! . . . "Monroe to Play Moscow Night Clubs" — headline. . . . (You wouldn't mean "Nyet" clubs, wouldja?)

P.T.L. says that the message conveyed by the custom of naming hurricanes is clearly "Never under-estimate the power of a woman."

Two big can companies have agreed to the so-call annual wage. . . , Changing the old saying to "We do what we can and what we can't we can." It was easier for workers to get what they wanted out of a can corporation, especially if they had, as it appears, openers.

Ike is on a vacation in Colorado and, if disgusted with his golf, the Grand Canyon is a wonderful place in which to throw golf clubs.

NO JUSTICE

Genevieve was a placid child,
Kindly, gentle, meek and mild;
No trouble did she ever stir . . .
BUT THEY NAMED A HURRICANE AFTER HER!
Millicent was a listless sort,
Of all aggressiveness most short;
For sweeter girls you'd have to hunt . . .
But they said she "BATTERED THE WATERFRONT"!

DONALD QUARLES, new secretary of air, was born in Van Buren, Ark., the Bob Burns country.

In Stamford, Conn., there died the other day a man, Andy Sterling, who had given to America some of its most enduring close-harmony quartet songs. . . . "All Aboard for Blanket Bay," "In the Evening by the Moonlight," "Wait 'Til the Sun Shines, Nellie" and "Meet Me in St. Louis."

Fishermen Get Added Services

Man, Wife To Operate Seaman 'Supermarket'

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP)—An enterprising Oakland couple has an idea that may well revolutionize the local sea produce industry—a one-stop super-service station for West Coast commercial fishing fleets.

Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, recently took a 10-year lease on a battered wharf on the Oakland Estuary. They transformed the sagging pier into a sort of seagoing supermarket where fishermen will be able to obtain a variety of needs, from canned goods to a new boat.

There the tired sailors also will be able to shave, shower and, in the best general store tradition, catch up on all the latest news.

Several entirely new structures have been built by Evans in anticipation of his mariner-customer's desires. Among these are a huge weighing platform to judge the day's catch, and an ice-house to furnish that all-important preservative to salmon and albacore that are still a long way from the cannery.

The pier, which the farsighted husband-and-wife team also plans to use as a storage quarters for winter-bound boats, is now prepared to accept and care for between 25 and 30 fishing vessels.

One advantage of an operation such as theirs, the Evanses feel, is that crewmen will be able to save a full day or two of valuable fishing time by doing all of their "shopping" in one place instead of moving from mooring to mooring. This factor, plus the added attraction of waters many coastal fishermen have never ventured into before, may help to make their "dream" a profitable reality.

Local citizens agree that if this project meets its fullest potential, San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf may find itself contending with a good deal of competition.

Mechanic-storekeeper Evans already has his first maintenance contract in hand, and hopes that it will prove to be only one of many such agreements with working fishermen from all over the Coast.

Cook-Mooney Marriage Vows Are Repeated Here

A waltz-length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace was worn by Miss Beverly Jean Cook when she became the bride of Franklin E. Mooney, Sunday afternoon in Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church.

A fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli, palms and lighted tapers in two seven-branch candelabra decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony read at 2:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Floyd E. Kline. A program of nuptial music was by Mrs. M. M. Crawford, organist, and Richard Davis, vocalist, brother-in-law of the bride.

THE BRIDE IS THE daughter of Mrs. Leelah Cook of 182 N. Seffner Ave. and the late Lowell Cook, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mooney of 961 N. State St.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lt. William J. Gibson of Norfolk, Va. Her dress, worn over bridal satin, was styled on princess lines. The bodice, button trimmed in the back, had a scooped neckline edged in scallops of lace and the sleeves ended in points over the hands. The skirt, fashioned with panniers and a scalloped hemline, was worn over hoops. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of irridescent sequins and pearls and she carried a white orchid on a white Bible presented to her by the church at her graduation. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls and earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. For something borrowed, she carried a handkerchief which had been carried by her sister, Mrs. Maynard Snyder, at her wedding.

Miss Pat Kemmerly was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary VanHouten and Miss Margie Snyder, nieces of the bride. Their gowns of turquoise crystalette, were ballerina-length, with scooped necklines and full gathered skirts. Worn over matching taffeta, the front of the skirts were paneled with embroidered crystalette. They carried crescent shaped bouquets and wore matching headbands. Miss Kemmerly's bouquet was yellow glamellias and daisies and the bridesmaids carried yellow daisies.

Sharon Davis, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Her dress was of white nylon and she wore a headband of yellow daisies and carried a basket of daisies and glamellias.

LOUIE MAHAFFEY served as best man for the bridegroom and ushers were Stanley Mooney and Ronald Mooney, brothers of the bridegroom, Robert Riley and James Zeigler.

The reception was in the church parlors. The bride's mother was costumed in a slate blue lace dress over taffeta and wore white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. A dress of powder blue crepe was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of red roses. Assistants were Miss Jo Ann Mochel of Cincinnati, Miss Phyllis Albert, Miss Mary Wylie, Miss Evelyn Gay, Mrs. Gerry Robinson and members of the church guild. Decorations were yellow and white gladioli. The table, skirted with tulle was laid with a Spanish cloth, a graduation gift to the bride from her brother-in-law. Garlands of greenery encircled the four-tiered cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom, punch bowl and candle holders.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains the bride was wearing a shell pink ensemble, white accessories and her wedding orchid. They will be at home after Aug. 21 at 463 N. State St.

The bride was graduated from Harding High School in 1954 and Guests were from Norfolk, Va., Toledo, Delaware, Mansfield, Crestline, LaRue, Lima, Dayton, Caledonia and Harpster.

THE REHEARSAL party was held Friday evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harold VanHouten. Miss Cook gave the maid of honor a double strand of pearls and gloves, the bridesmaids single strands of pearls and gloves, and the flower girl a gold cross. Mr. Mooney gave the best man and ushers tie clasps and cuff links. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a watch band, tie clasp and cuff links.

Among pre-nuptial events for the bride was a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Miss Phyllis Albert of 125 Kenmore Ave. Decorations were in the bride's colors and centerpiece for the table was a small white church. Prizes in contests went to Mrs. Harold VanHouten and Miss Mary Wylie.
